INTRODUCTION

by

DAVID

JASON

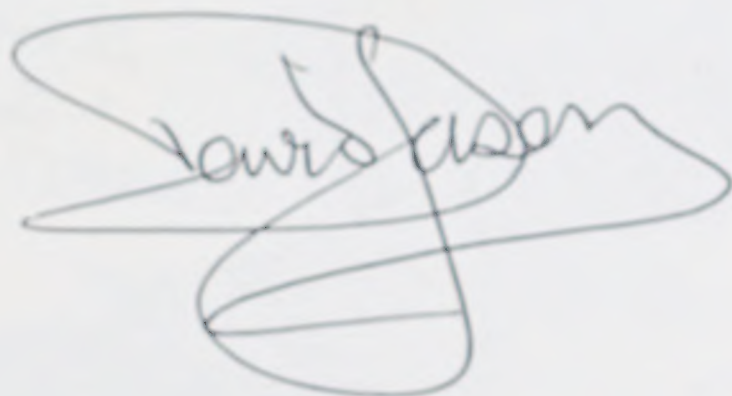

When mankind first learned to communicate the first joke was not far behind.

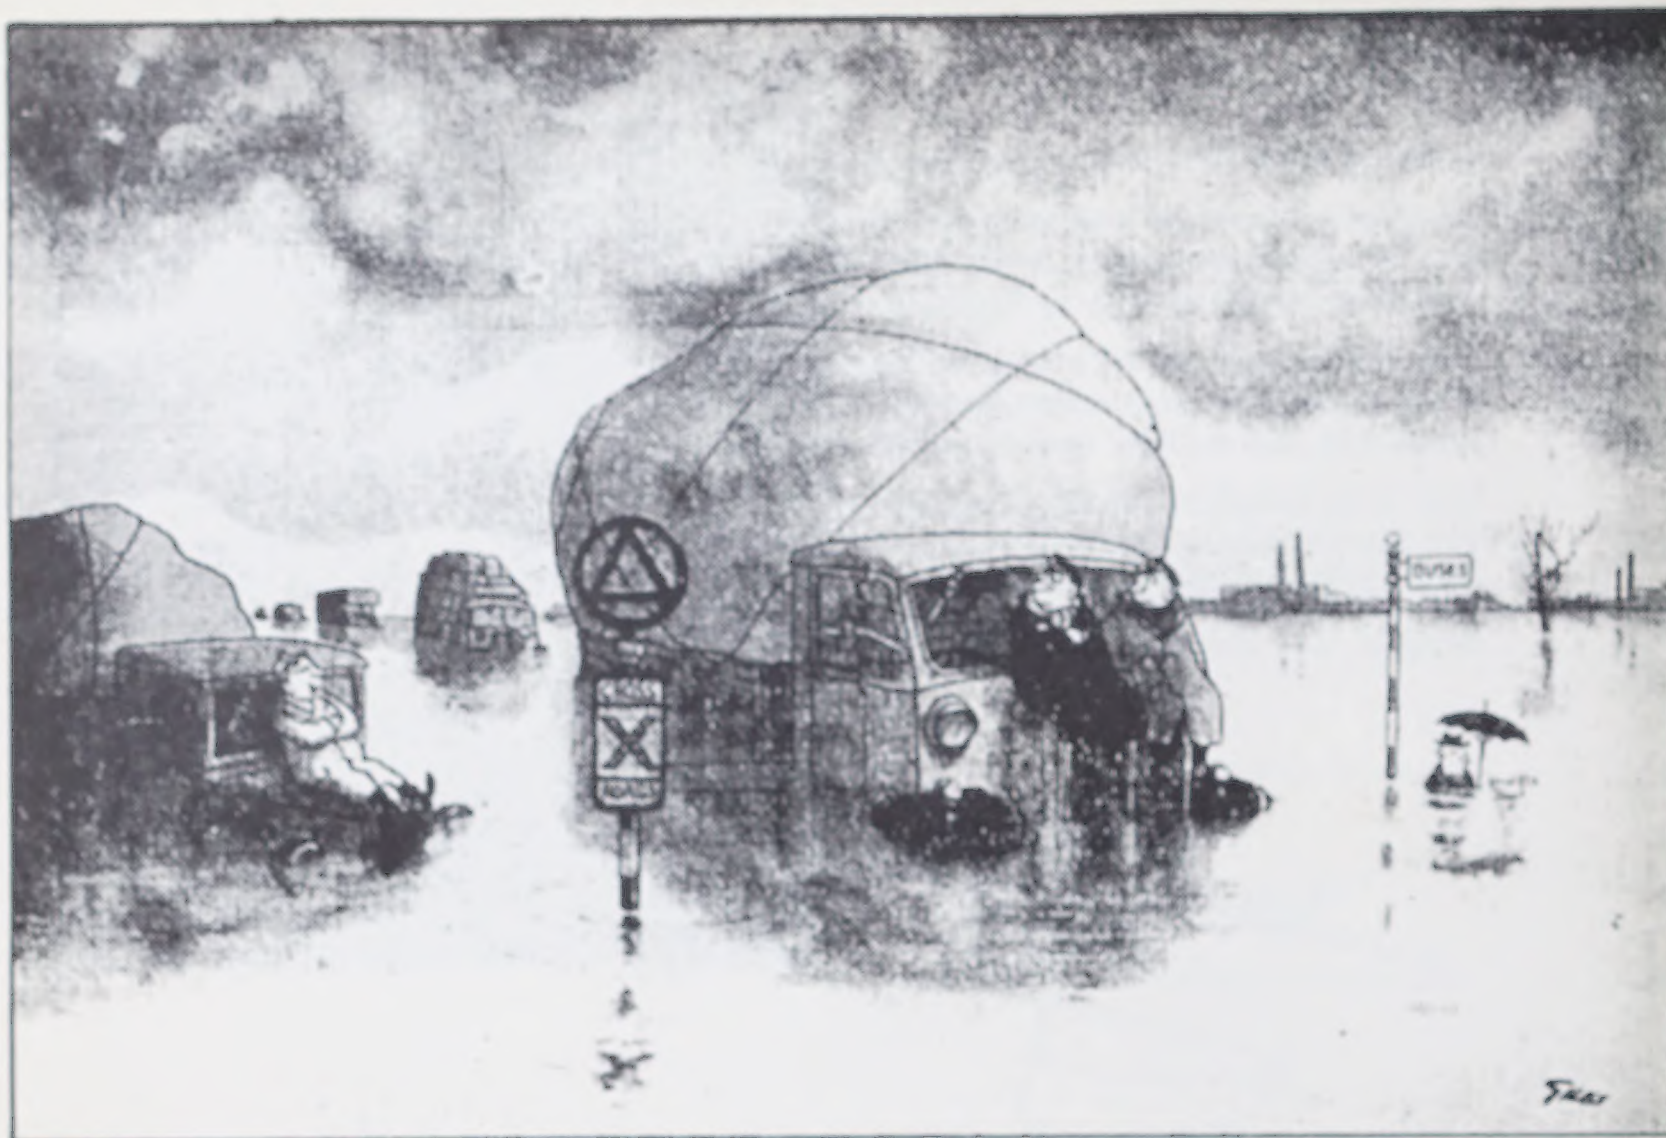

Laughter is one of the most precious gifts that the human race possesses. It takes us all, for a few fleeting moments, away from the pressure of everyday life; and those people who have the gift to make us laugh are very precious indeed.

Not many people can tell a story well and make us truly laugh, but I think Giles is one of our most gifted story-tellers, for what are cartoons if not funny stories told in a visual way, and in Giles' case by a brilliant teller?

Giles is as British as fish and chips and a pork banger, only funnier than both. The day we have the standard Politically Correct E.U. Approved joke is the day the British will have no need of Giles.

Read on, take your time and enjoy yourself.

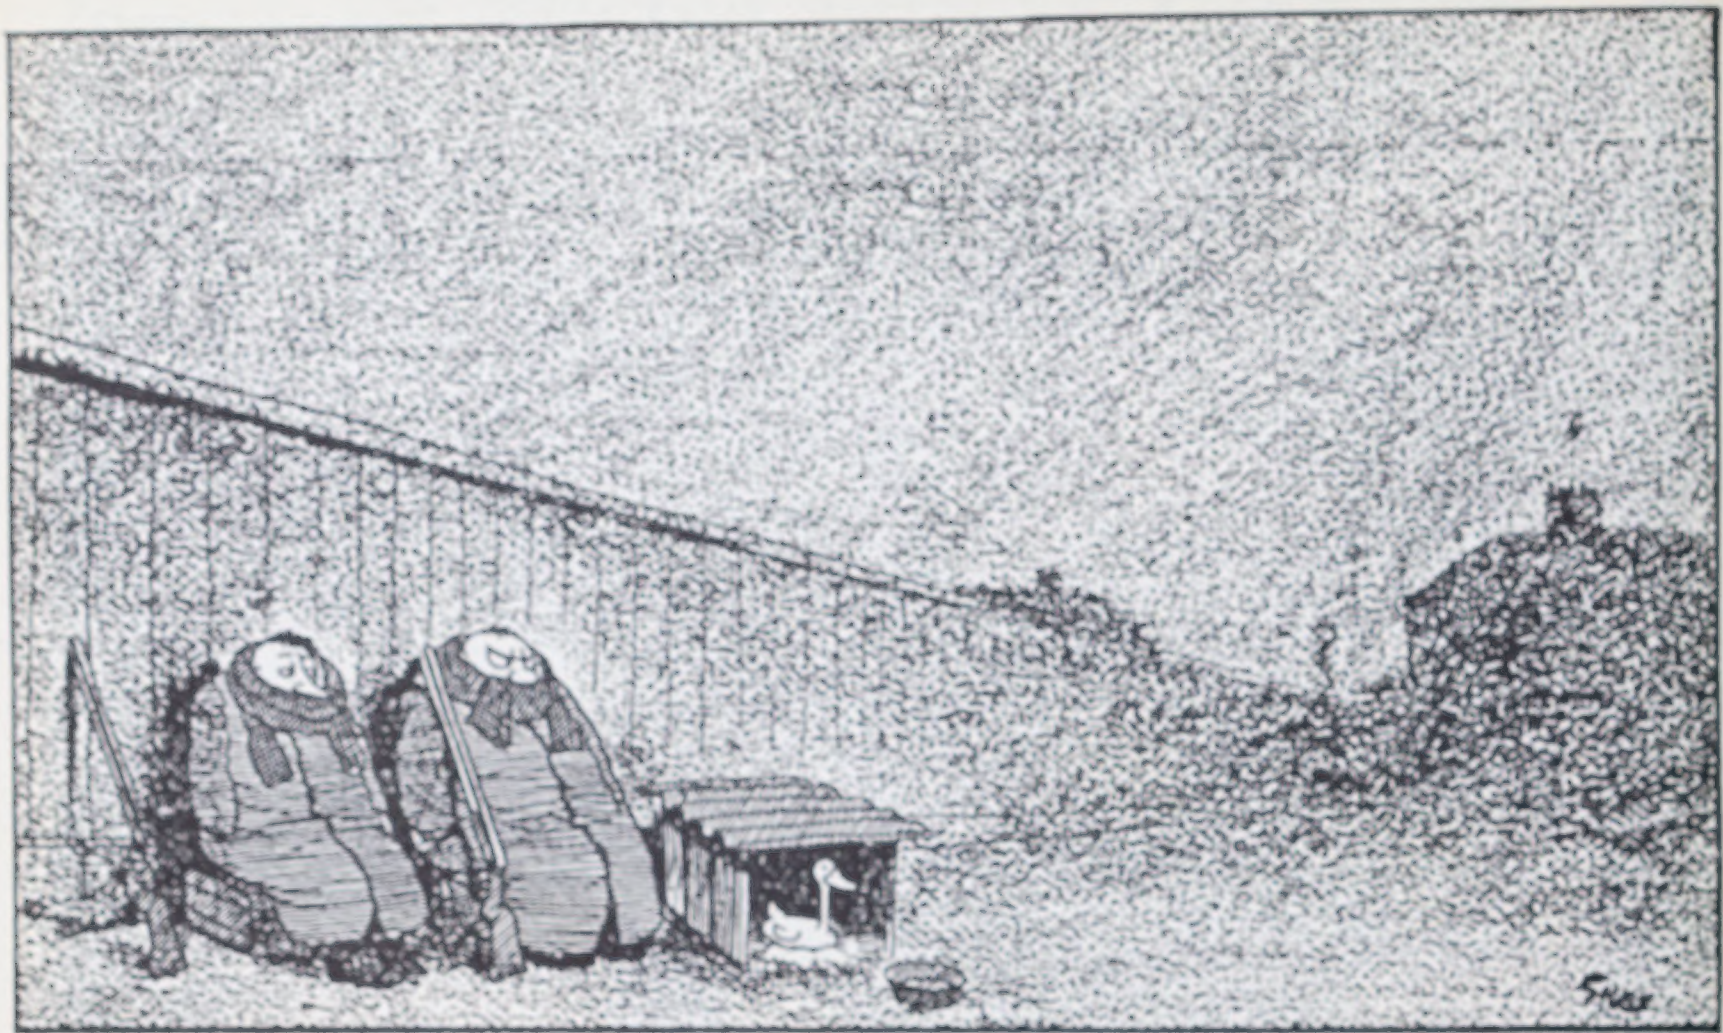

A handwritten signature in black ink, which appears to read "Lewis Allen". The signature is stylized and is enclosed within a large, loopy, hand-drawn oval frame.

"They tell me they're still troubled with snow up North."

"Have you NO sense of duty - NO decent feelings ? Can't you manage just ONE extra for Easter?"

"I wish someone'd hurry up and pinch this — bird if they're going to."

"You'll get more than you think you'll get if my wall isn't finished tonight."

"What makes me laugh is my wife spent the heat-wave at the sales fighting for a sun-suit."

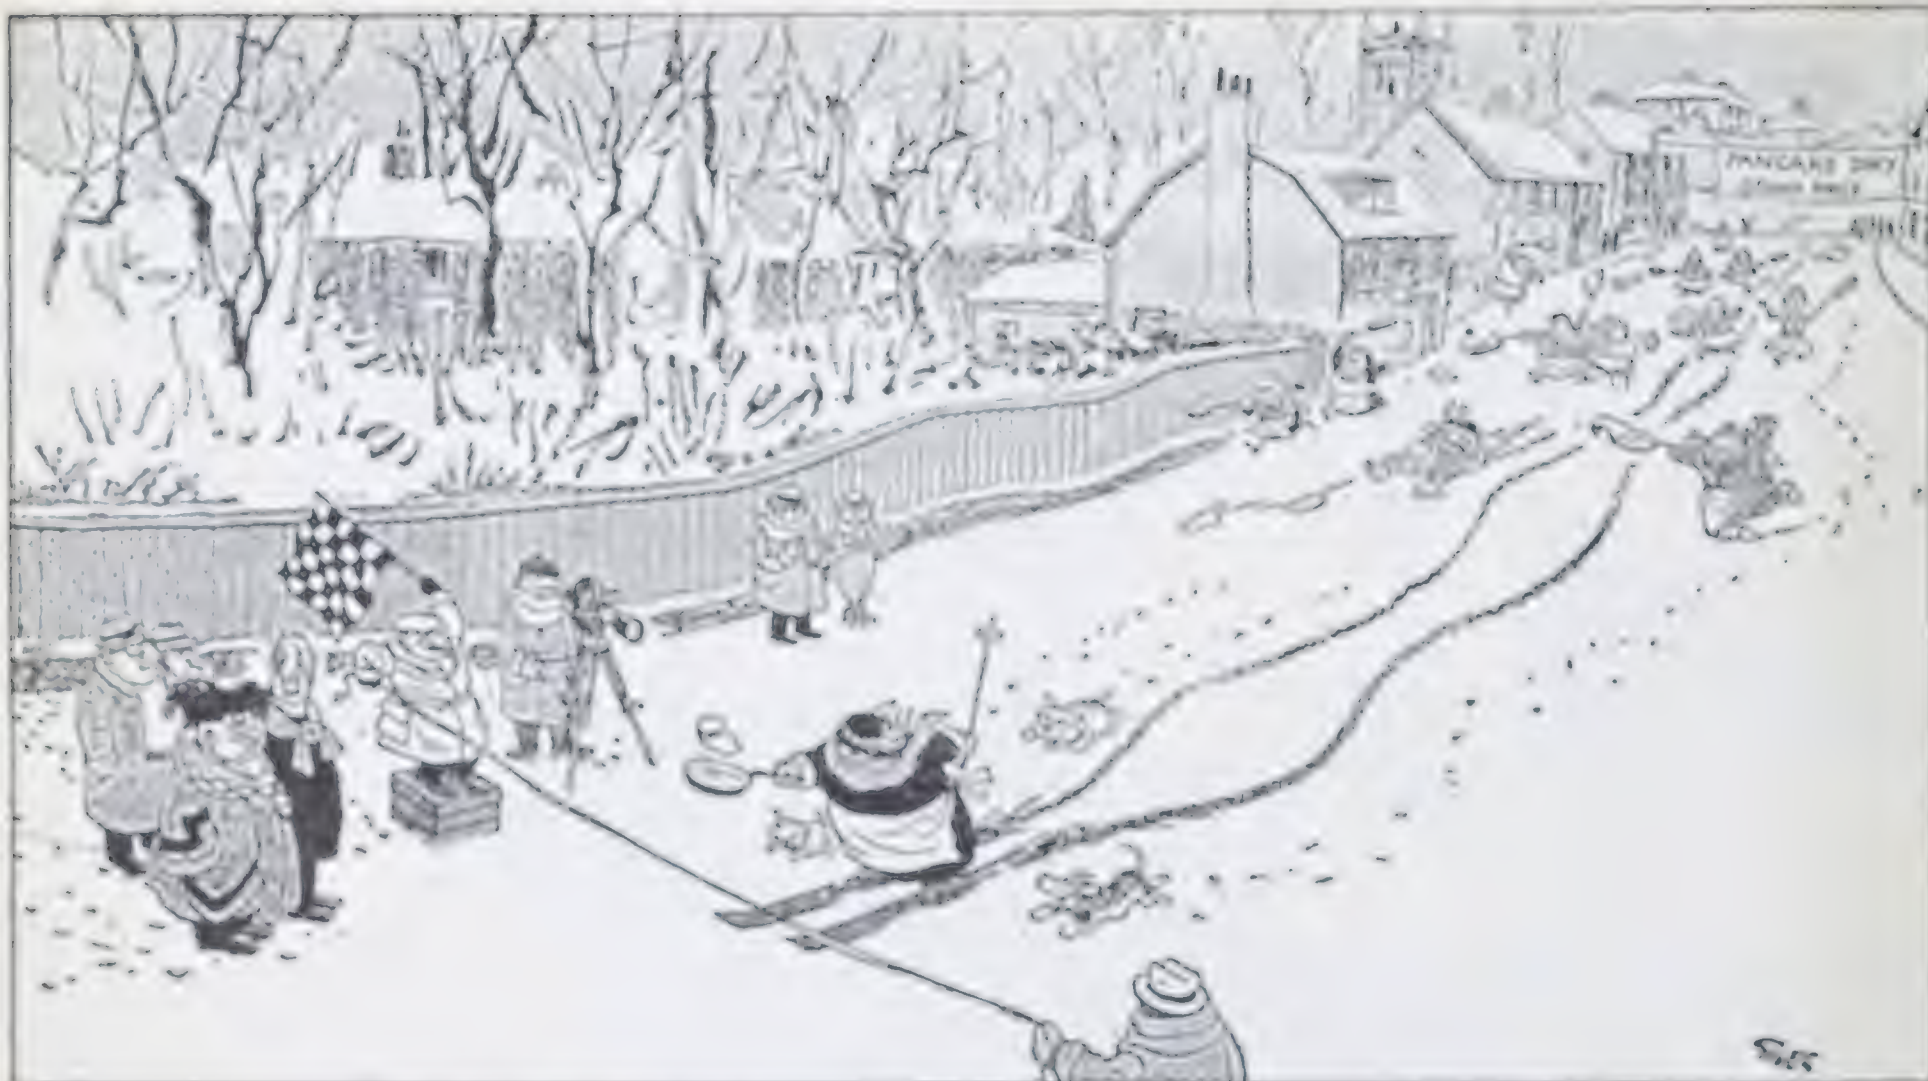

"Good idea asking your friend if we could help on his farm during the holidays, wasn't it?"

"That would be from the bride and bridegroom you booked yesterday, Jack."

"Oh dear, in his present militant mood Doctor isn't going to like that."

"On the other hand there's nothing in the rules to say skis can't be worn."

"Reminding me it was me who forgot that football started on the same day as I booked our holiday don't help, either."

"Note from the office, Humphrey - the temporary man in your job is doing fine, so you can take another week."

"And now, if we have one virile, intelligent volunteer to turn the handle ..."

(Headline: Schools urged to provide apples and machine to decorate them)

"Hold your fire, men. Last minute reprieve from the Home Secretary on condition the prisoner doesn't clean his flick-knife on the school towel again."

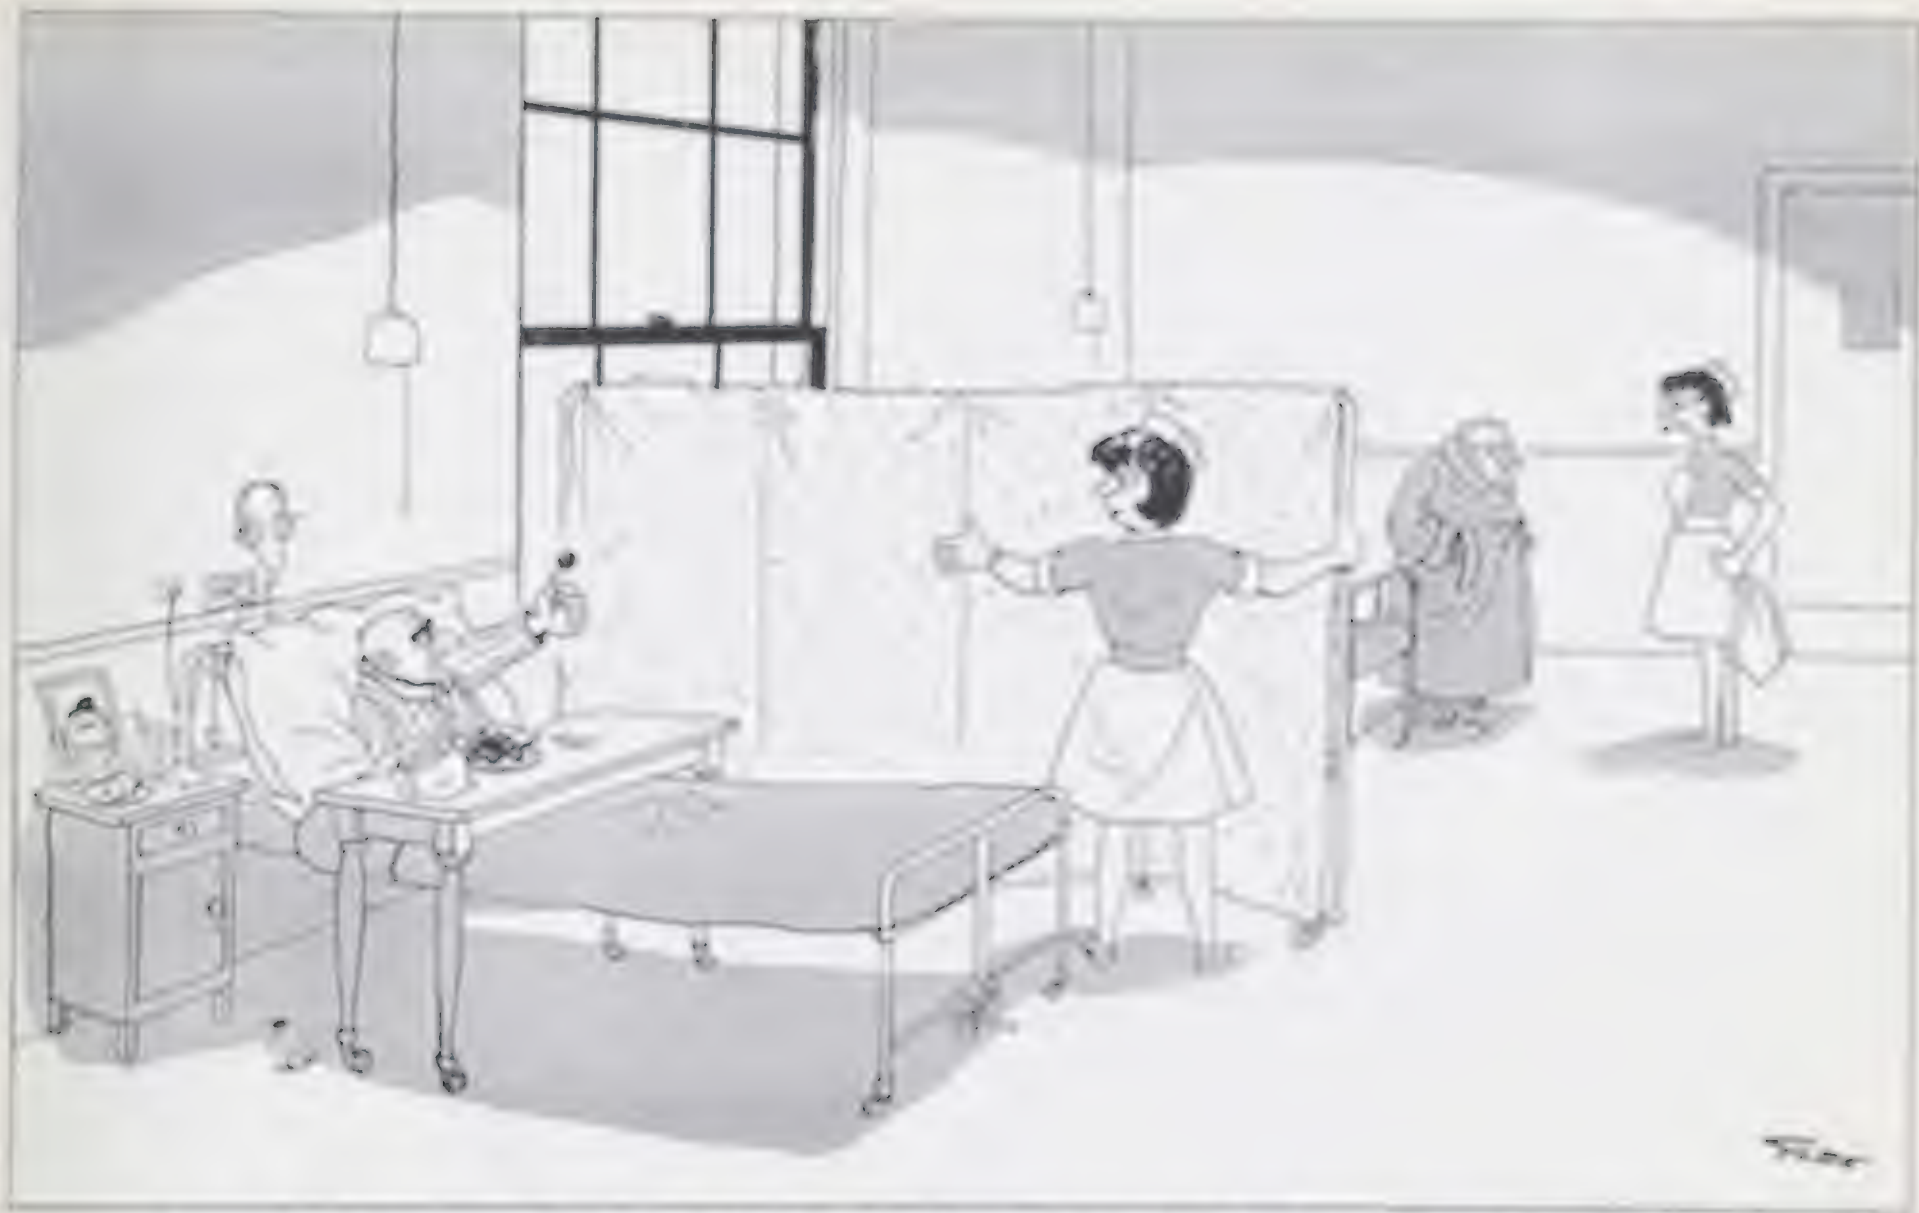

"Permitting a vehicle to be on the highway in an unroadworthy condition' every one of them.
Best catch for a long time!"

"Grandma wasn't praying for World Peace - she was praying for her nap to come up in Wednesday's Derby"

"Special treat for Father's Day - lunch with her mother."

"I'm not here to taste your grapes and toffee's just because you think they're trying to knock you off"

"As a matter of fact that's exactly what I said in front of the children about their new Radio One."

"He shouldn't be gone very long - he's got to be back to get his hamster's tail."

How about one of those friendly cricket matches to create a better relationship between the Protest Marchers and the Police!

once again you will be glad to no that I am taking over from my giles who's busted his thumb in an argument with a rep on his boat. I don't think he's very happy about this and wants to know why it's always his thumb that gets busted and never any of his crew's little thumbs. he says if he knew it was more than he's going to have to deal with this that and he did the job about that probably being a good idea anyway.

Some of his mates say his ~~originality~~ ^{originality} old ~~ideas~~ ^{ideas} are ~~not~~ ^{not} making. on the hole all the time the newspaper displace was on and he hasn't been back a couple of weeks before he goes on the clasp. he says if they think you can get a them needed on the national health at the local clinic where he went they'll be ~~very~~ ^{very} lucky.

Yours truly,

Giles Junior

achtung line

hear yme
hear me.

when i asked mr
giles if he wanted
me to stand in for
him and his busked
thum again he said
no ~~giles~~ felt no doubt.

and thumy said
everyone was fed up with his thum
especially him. he had his stickie out
today and he said O
for adin one and he was niggly thum over
and he said if i write another one of my letters ill be with nearly the others.

i quote me while
i meditate on world affairs

well this example of that would offend dolo
but very very whether youre in your head in your ~~the~~ sitting down only not at the moment

i saw news items
interest me. if id
been the one to let the olympic torch go out like that that did
saturday at noon
the busked in mexico. it was sure not a strike
like from one thum
g.

i see all the little doblin men
are bopping one another at work.
mr g. likes doblin
because its where he first met irish people.

thats a story
about market going to get paper
business but mr g
says if he had his body he'd clap him
all in front. mr g
thinks all market
are the same
because they keep making him do everything he does about to do and they keep making his grapes and leaving him the
scab. 1000000

well i will mention
the bary rance
because we thum
want let me get tied up in politics especially
mr snok poorely
well i must close
now as i accidently
changed mr g anyspic nation for yredman's cin and i dnt think its waly
him any appier.
strawed i finished
his anysptic nation
and the last look
none the worse.
the bary do what a scrawny waly this.

yours truly
giles jones

but butch was under the he finished the
mr g. when he was he jumped up to say
allo and hit mr g's thum. mr g said o
dntin and he did butch

P.S.

if possible use a paper that says "The New York Times" on it. This is a sample of a letter that was sent to the editor of the New York Times.

allo everyone

well he's in i am still standing in and cut for mr giles and his thum. his thum's getting better and he's getting worse. he was ever so happy when he went to get his car and found it had been pinched. he went up in the air like a fly landing on a hot plate.

everyone in sight was a potential car thief including Andy and the other constable. the thum got warned to know why the police were hanging around on point duty instead of looking for his etc. one newspaper reported that he was worried in case it had been stolen by little boys who couldn't drive that car. he ho ho ho they'll get hurt all right if one thum gets his other hand on em.
When a policeman found it in Nottingham we hid a cell call in the family to see if any of us were in Nottingham. Grandma said it was probably the policeman who found it that pinched to get back to Nottingham and i said why didn't they do a bank while they had it then i hid up.

i asked one thum if he would like me to report the terry conference in Gibraltar or mr Wilson and mr Smith in Liverpool and he said yes. ~~the terry conference in Gibraltar or mr Wilson and mr Smith in Liverpool and he said yes.~~

well i must close now,
yours truly,

Giles junior.

P.S. one of my fias wrote to me and said 'dear illustrious pig, don't you know that the troubles last Sunday were in Londonderry not Dublin?' i didn't say they were in Dublin.
i said the little Dublin men were having a bop up. Dublin men can have a bop up in Londonderry can't they.

P.P.S. one thum will be back next week if he doesn't blow up.

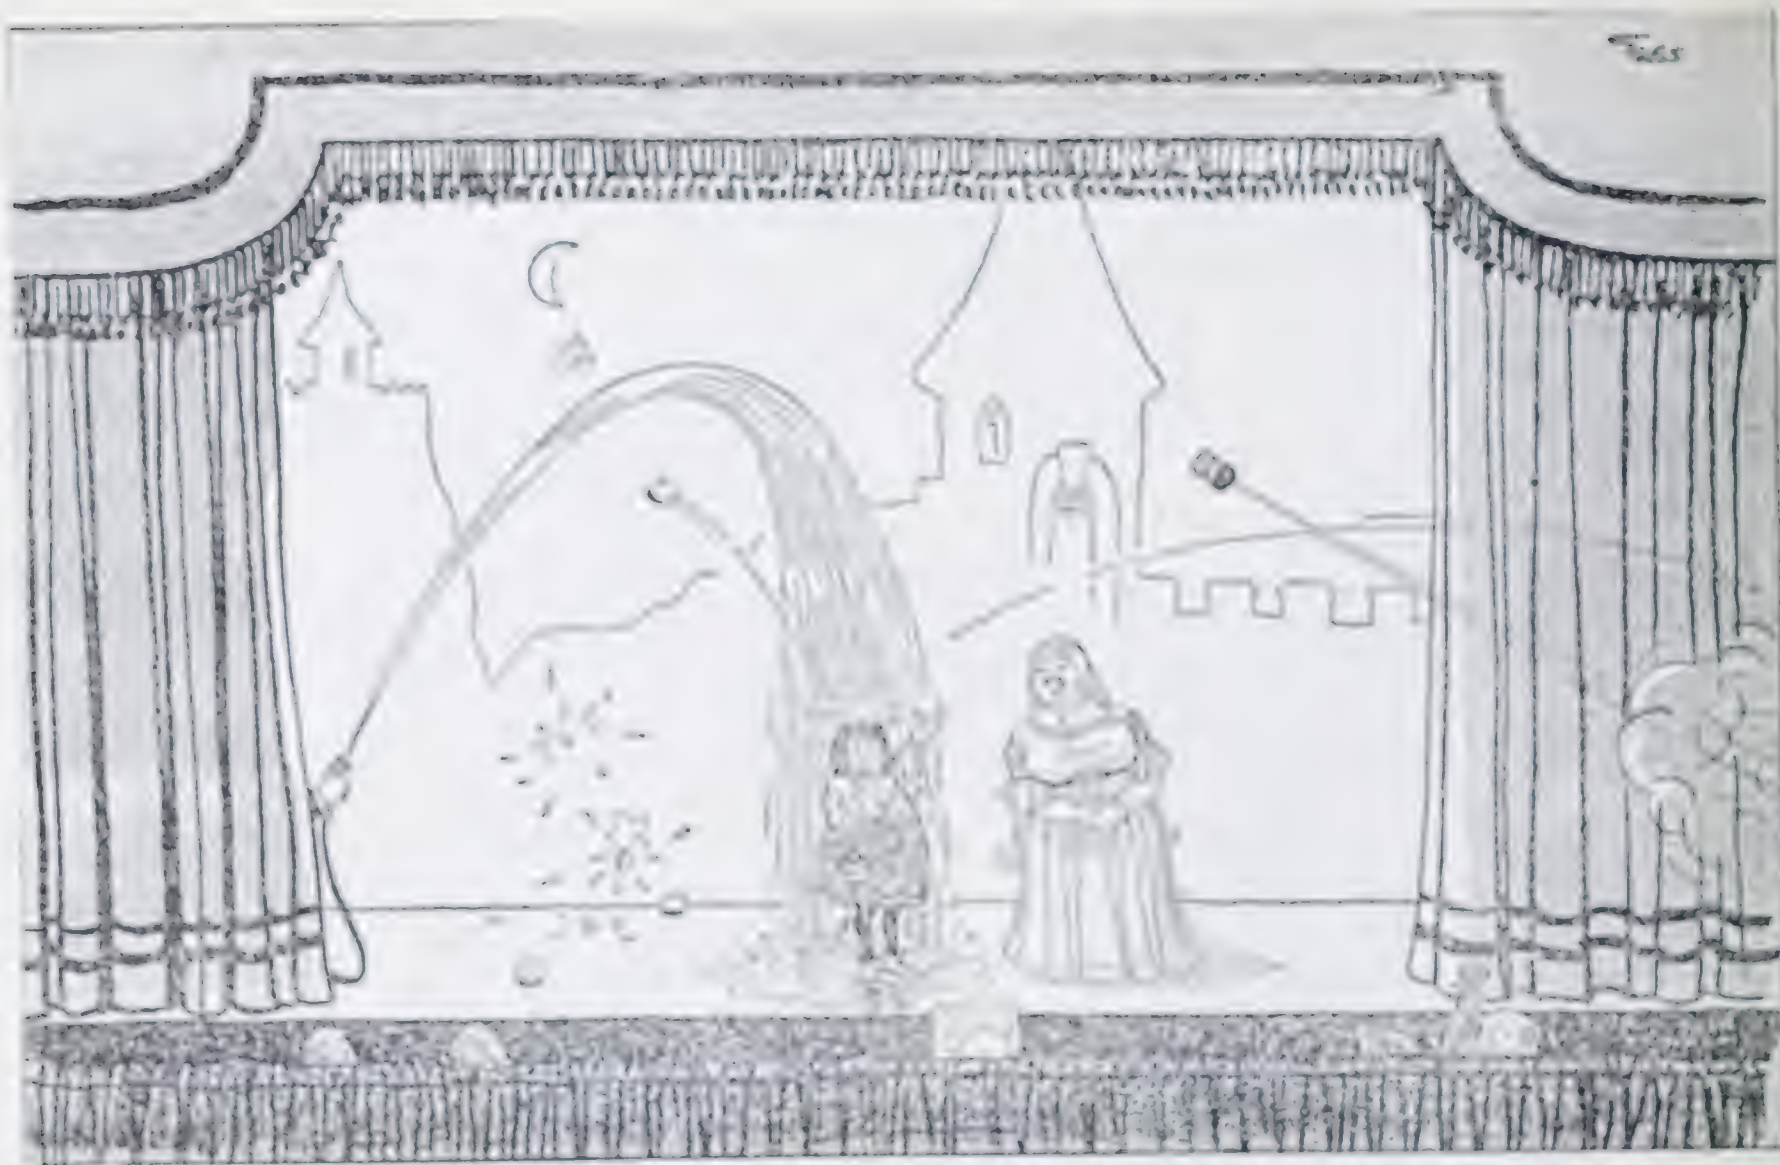

"Grandma heard him say she was probably beating out O Volant Hearts during the Crimean War"

"That's enough confession for one day, O'Murphy - 123 addresses where you can get one after time less than a hundred yards from this very church."

"You realise if you sign, daddy, it also means that you must not lay a finger on Timothy if he invades the pitch."

"A particle of clothing was taken from the Chancellor of the Exchequer today. Police are looking for a rather shaggy airedale, seen leaving No. 11 Downing street, who they think may be able to help with their inquiries."

"Whatever makes you think George minded missing his first match of the season to take us to see The Tales of Beatrix Potter, Auntie?"

"I don't mind you entering, Agnes, but damn it - you might have told me you were eligible again."

"For gawd's sake don't tap on the counter to draw her attention - she'll have you strung up high as a kite before you can say pint of mild."

"This suspicious note you saw dropped, Sir. After exhaustive investigations by M15 and our forensic experts it turned out to be a fruit gum wrapper"

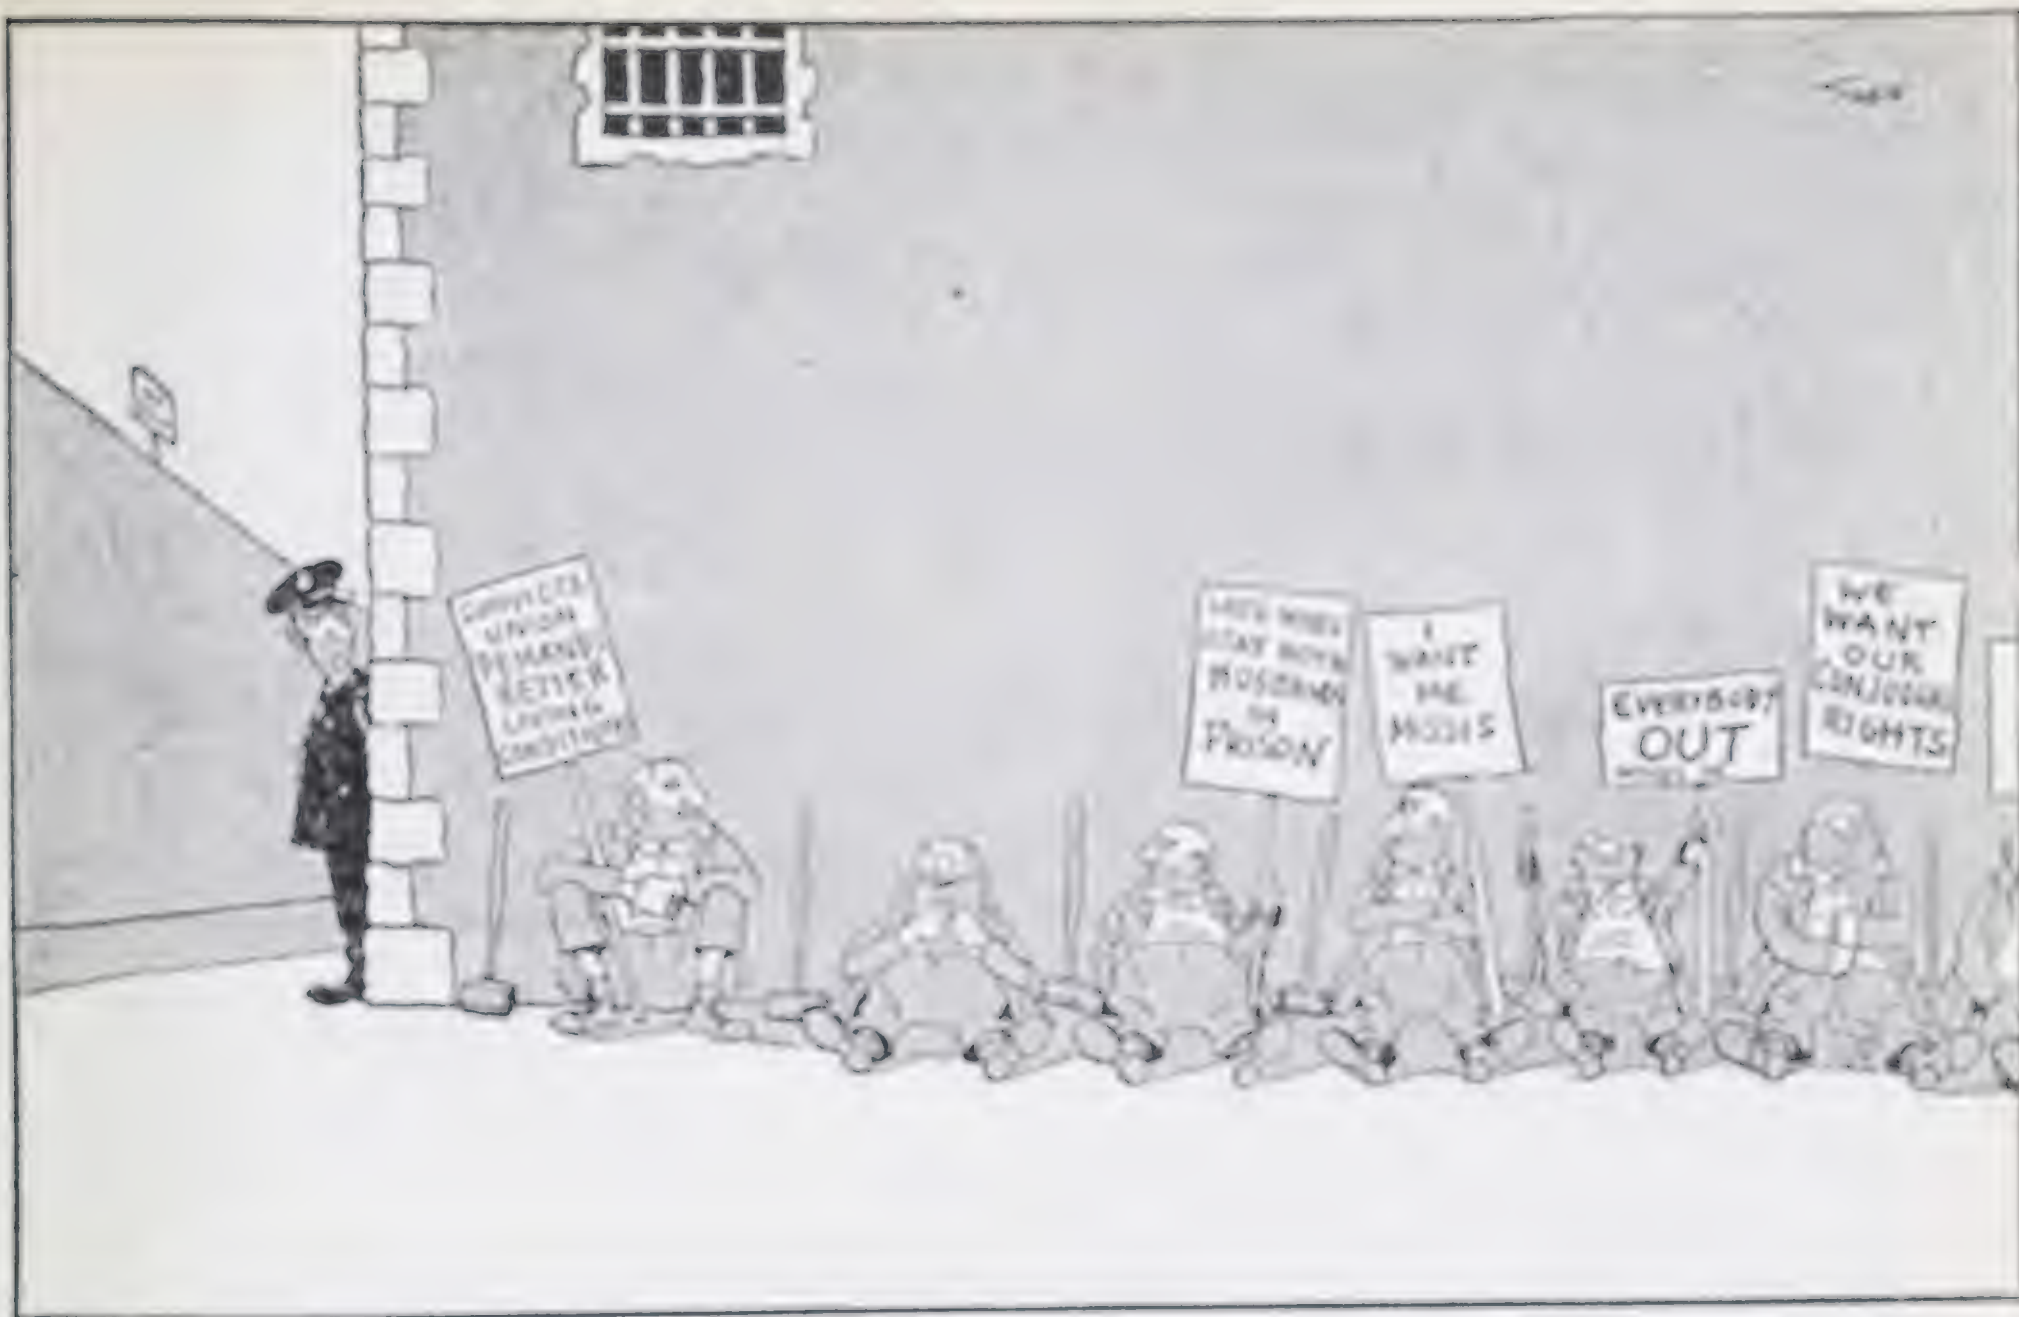

"Virginia Wade didn't kick up all that row when she lost, Henrietta."

"Well, back to the old ironing board."

"Unlike Wimbledon, there's nothing in the rules to say they can't advertise in the Open"

"If they do let wives in to stay, my case'll give the screws a headache - I'm in for bigamy!"

"Softening up His Lordship as his team was clobbered yesterday before we remind him Auntie Milly has arrived for the week."

"Mine's doing his training at home to make sure he's fit enough to walk back to work tomorrow."

"Tell Cassanova I'd like a word in the study about those letters of his."

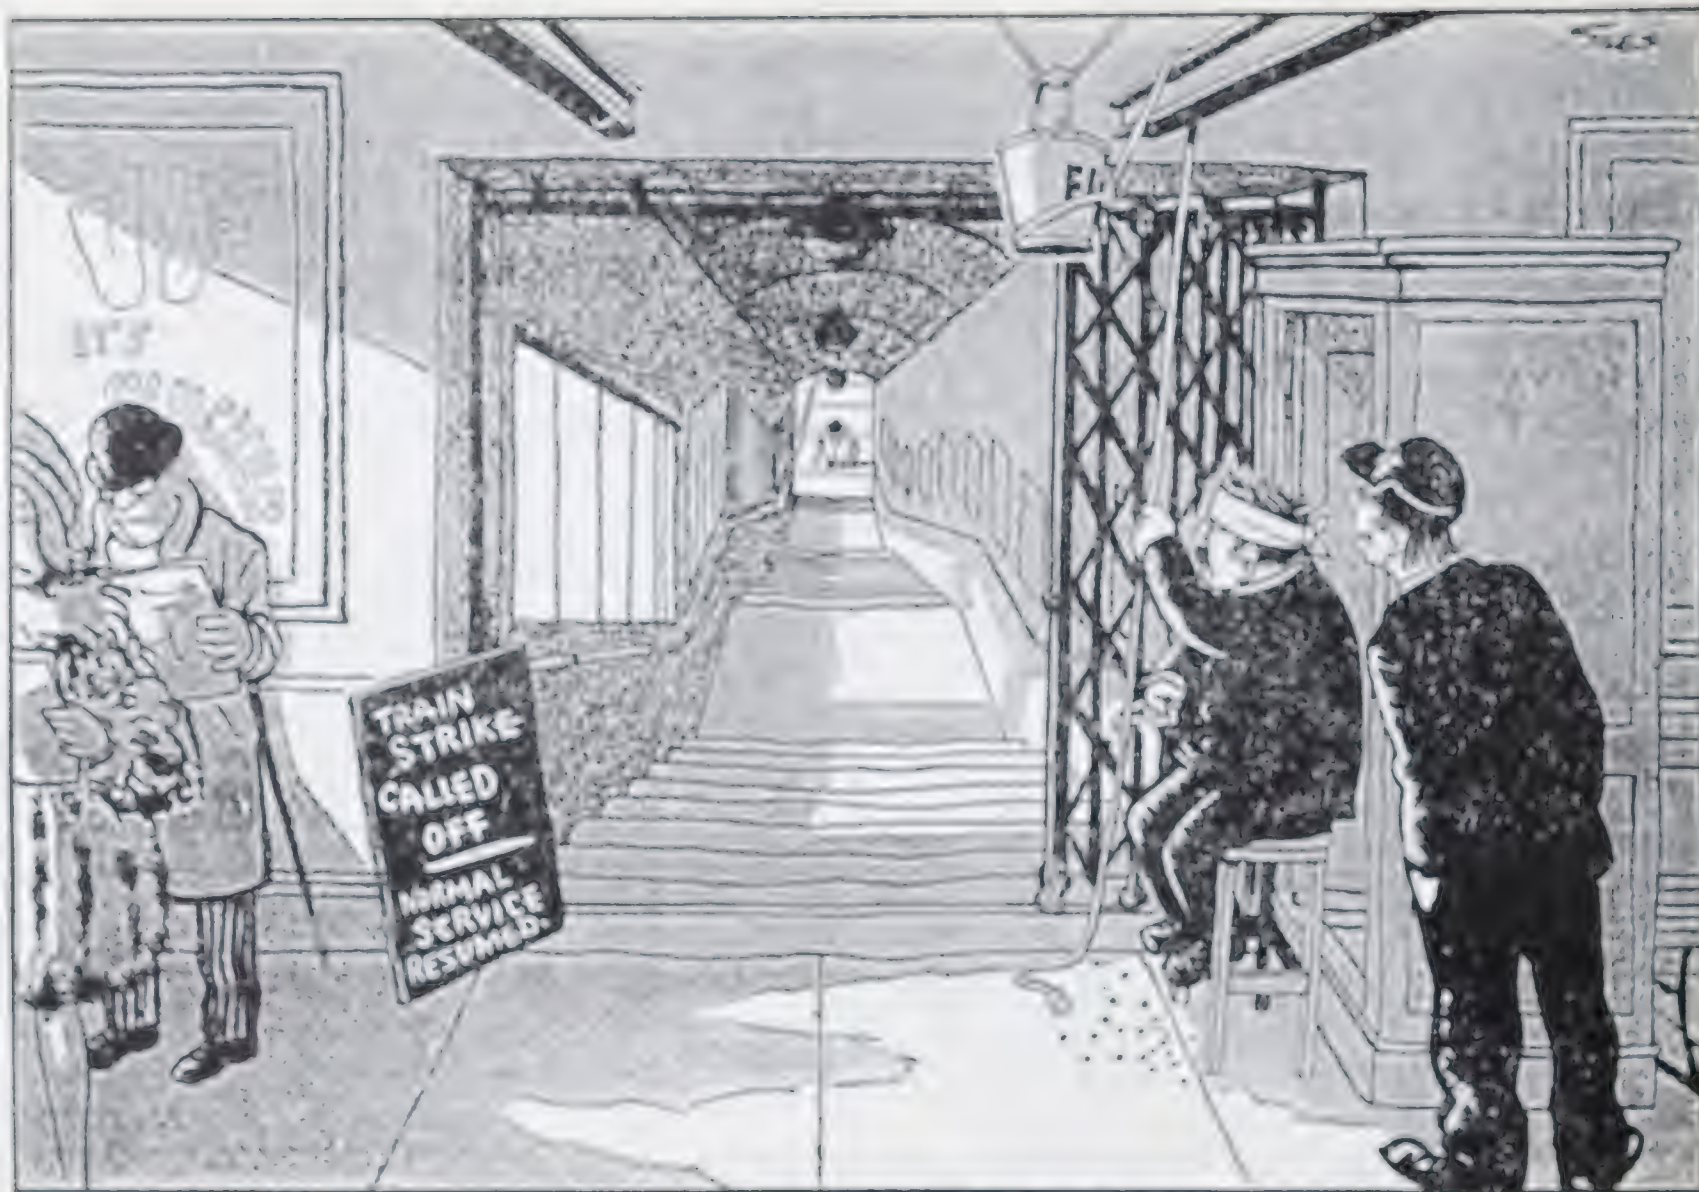

"Dinger, we learn from the grapevine that your Teddy Bear mascot contains four knuckle-dusters, two flint and a hacksaw."

"I'll settle for a nice hot night club in exchange for training any time you like"

"Tell your paper I deny any romance between me and Nurse Barker and there are no grounds for any rumours of a romance between us."

"Here comes the boy who cracked you with his umbrella."

"Pass! If I informed you of the whereabouts of a £1 million IRA arms dump, do you think we could let your criminal charge of parking for ten minutes drop?"

"De-bagging the umpire after yesterday's decision didn't do you a lot of good."

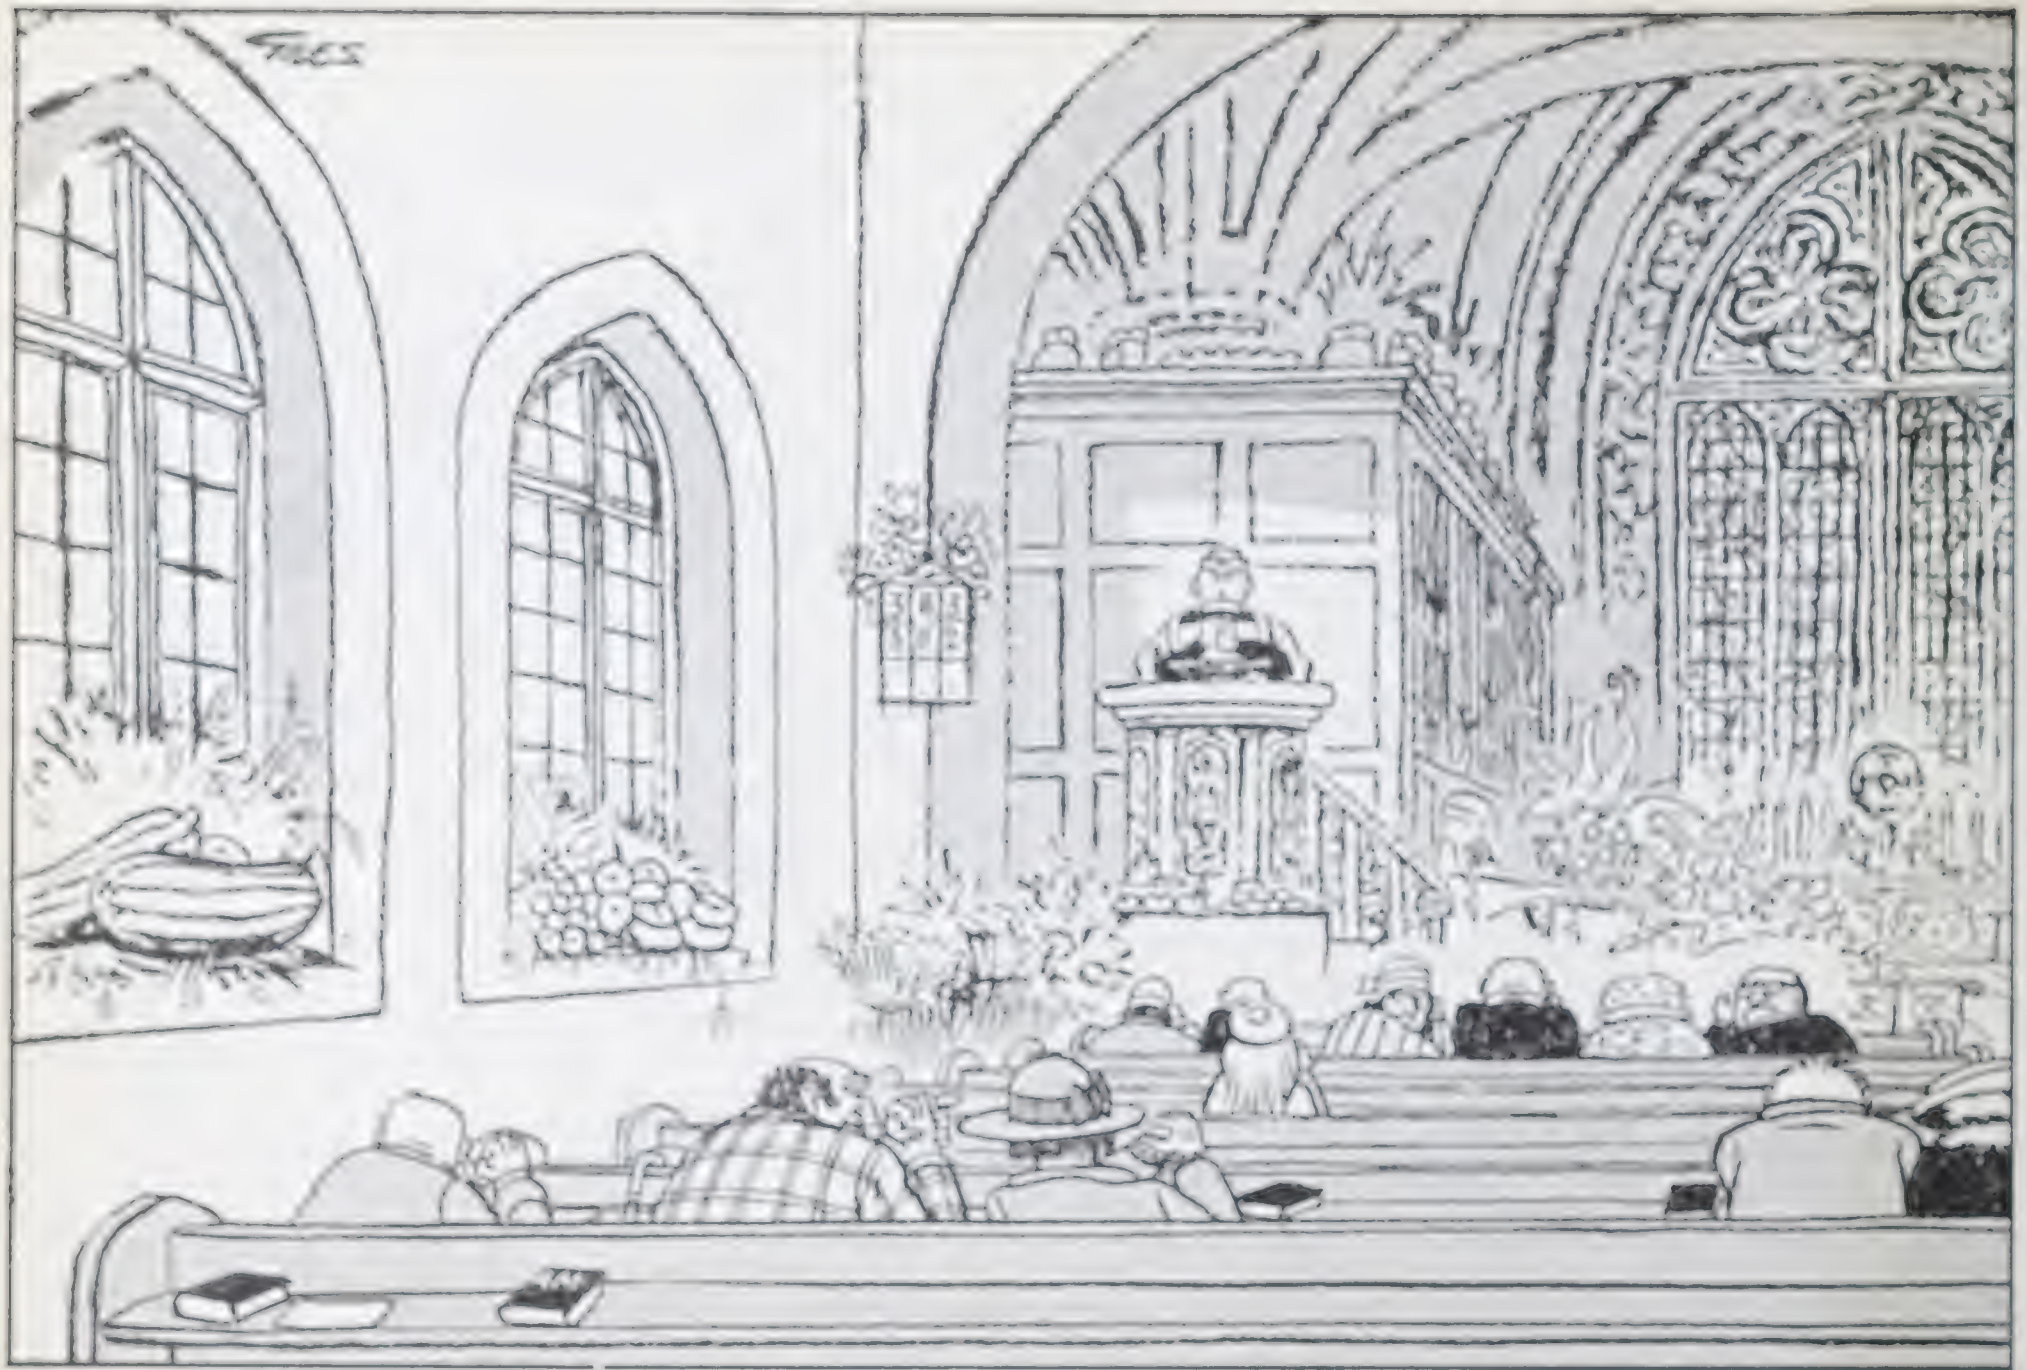

"Wait till he takes his other sock off then we're got him."

"Hurt his toe kicking a policeman - what's the matter, my little angel' too hot?"

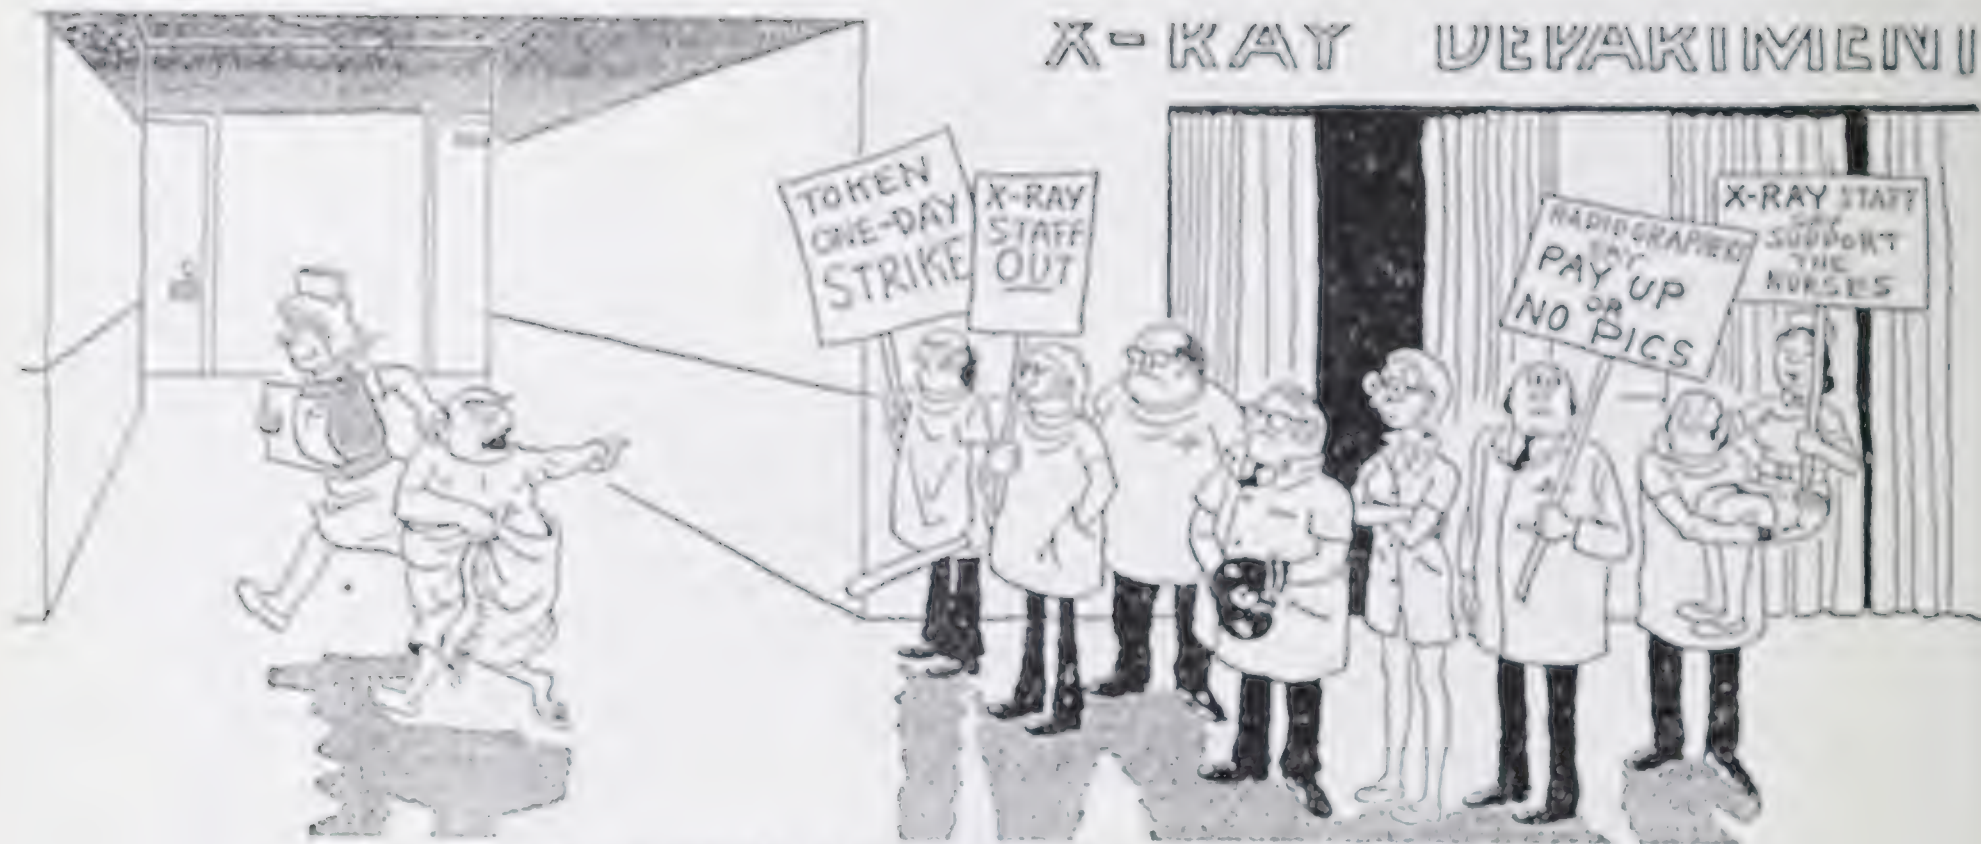

"Ladies! While I fully appreciate how grateful you are that your little ones have this week been returned to me..."

"There's a two of 'em who've had a decent harvest - my Building Society Manager and my Bank Manager."

"He claims he's been wrongfully imprisoned as he was at least three feet away from Grandma's hat when the arrow penetrated."

"I'll bet if Sophia Loren wanted an X-ray of her gallstone there'd be a few blacklegs among you."

"Lady wants it in writing there are no bottom-sparking parties on board."

"They all say the same - it's not so much they're fed up with the country, they've had enough of Christmas holidays."

"YOU DARE"

"Poor Algy, he was looking forward to going back to England with a Broken leg."

"That was very public spirited of you to hop on the line and stop the Inter-City train for us Unfortunately we're just running into Ostend"

"You forget the golden rule of Father's Day - always let him win."

"With the pound falling, mi'ady, you can't go to Europe on holiday, so why not read about it?"

"Not that I'm suggesting anything, Vicar, but before you came by on the way to church there were five potatoes in this row, now there only be three."

"Well, that seems a fairly business-like way to get rid of 'em."

"Doctor doesn't consider you an emergency case.
Buying your boy a magic chemical set was a calculated risk."

"Cod fishing off the coast of an R.F.C. protection ship does nothing to relieve the tension between Iceland and the British Navy."

"You'll like our new secretary, sir, supplied under the new no-sex-discrimination Act."

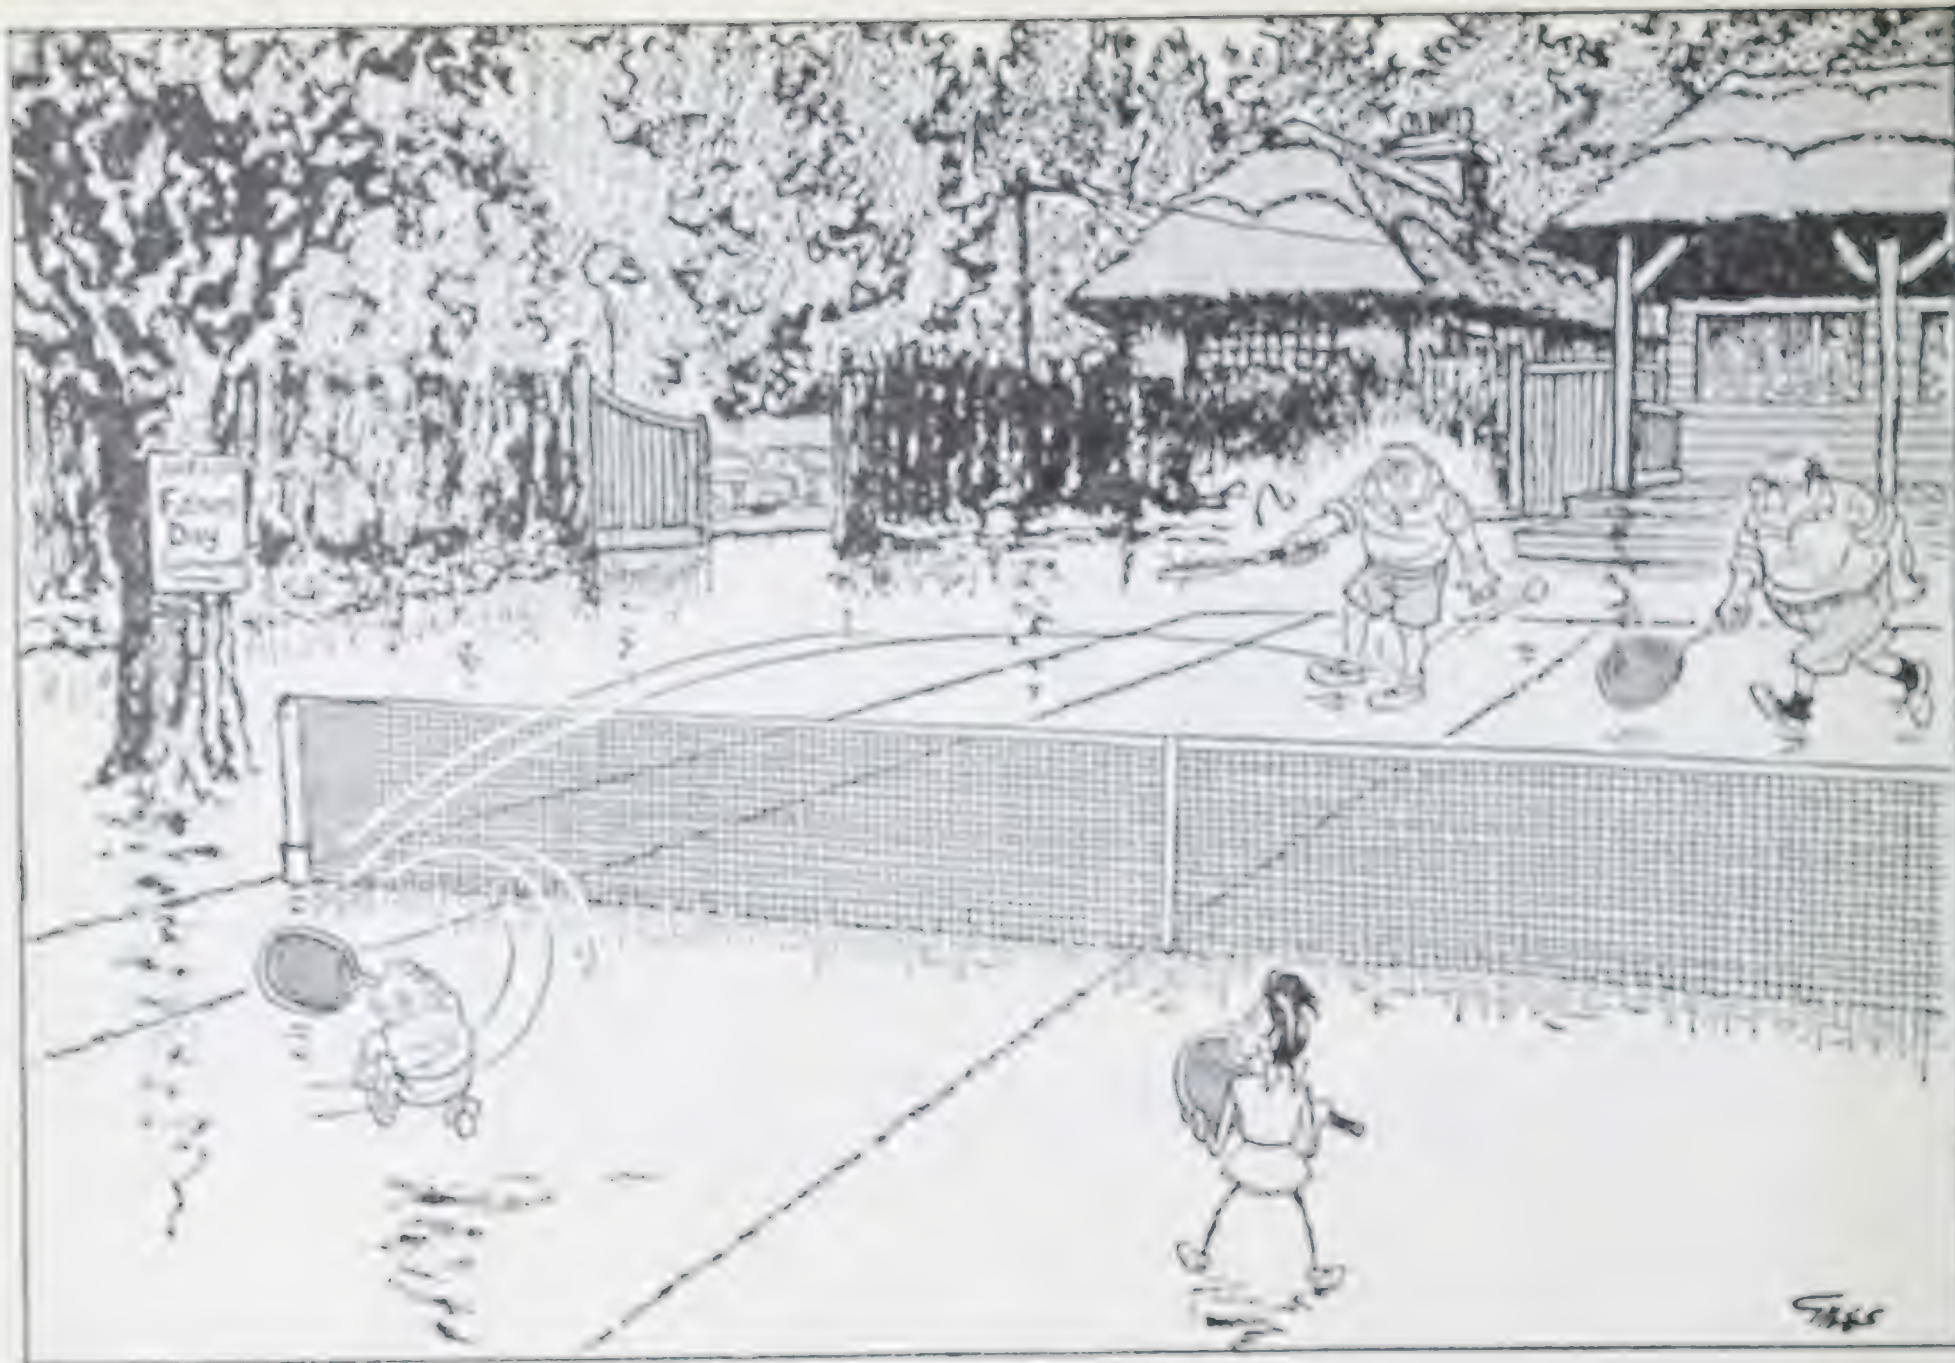

"Just think Dad, if Graham Bell hadn't invented the Telephone a hundred years ago today Auntie Bertha wouldn't be able to phone us to say they're all coming to tea this afternoon!"

"Mavis, that don't look like you're consoling one of 'em turned into a prince - that look exactly like consoling Willie Boggis the cowman."

"I'd watch that 'Morning duckie' stuff, Horsey - it could get you a couple of chapters in her memoirs."

"Whoops! I thought he was going to topple over again."

G. L. S.

"You heard correctly, madam. I DID say I would rather fly to the States inside that whale, than in the same plane as you and your resulting children."

"Here comes our very own doyen of industry - graduated in the Christmas Play from a King of Orient to a Poor Shepherd in half a term."

"You go first and ask her if she wants any help with the housework - I tried it yesterday."

"Your father has epitomised the entire collection in his usual sensitive, lucid way - 'Load of rubbish!'"

"Don't build up too much hope, lads. He not only knows his rights on sex-discrimination laws but my wife has the casting vote."

"Dammit, old boy - that isn't cricket!"

"If you really are going to put your head in the gas oven, darling, be a dear and do it before April 1st."

"I didn't say I hadn't got any confidence in any of 'em - my puppet said he hadn't, got any confidence in any of 'em."

"Must hide those before she sees them or she'll put the bloody rent up."

"Four days' honeymoon in London Airport isn't a great start to a life of matrimonial bliss"

"Mind you, it involves studying hard for years under an employer before you publish a book on all the muck you have collected about him."

"Now we come to the delicate exercise of choosing one of 'em to be hon. treasurer."

AND THE FUNNY SIDE OF LIFE ON THE FACTORY FLOOR BY THE INCOMPARABLE GILES

"We believe British industry should harness the enthusiasm, imagination and fun of youth."

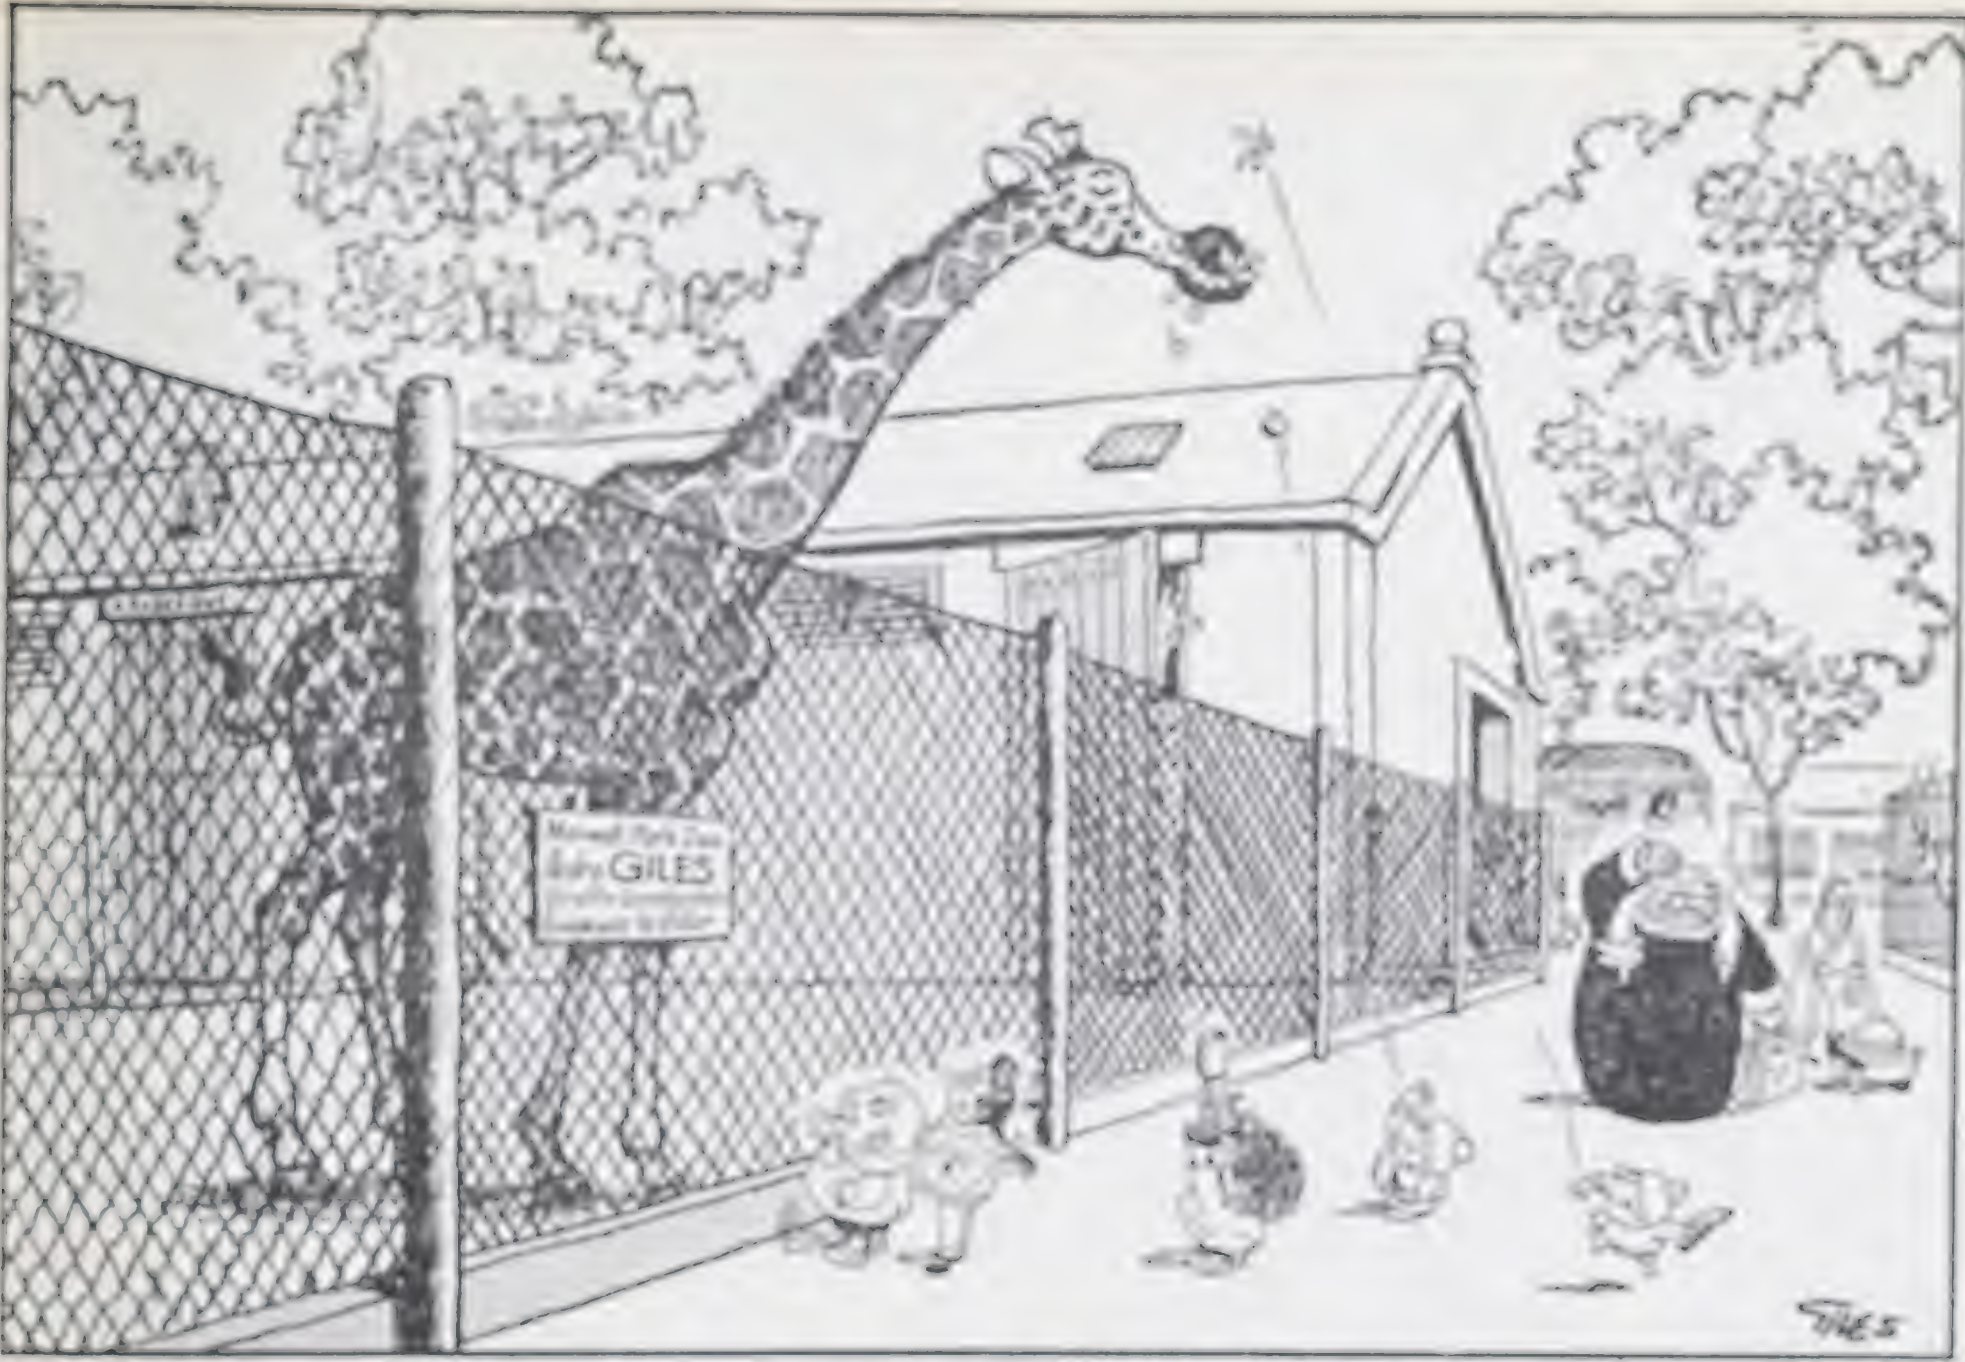

"She saw them on TV chanting 'We want to work'."

"I tell for that one - I let him have compassionate leave because his wife's going to have a baby.
Now he tells me he won't know if it's a boy or a girl till nine months' time."

"Not TOO dangerously. Boy."

"Grandma doesn't mind them naming churches and cathedrals after her but I don't think she'll go a lot on sex-mad giraffes."

"HRH is in one of his doom-watch moods this morning - hear that rude little word from below when you muffed that ?"

Only the Giles' kids could get into such a jam...

"We had a nice quiet Christmas thanks to the firemen still being on strike."

"I did do everything I could to prevent you having an accident - I told you not to take the car"

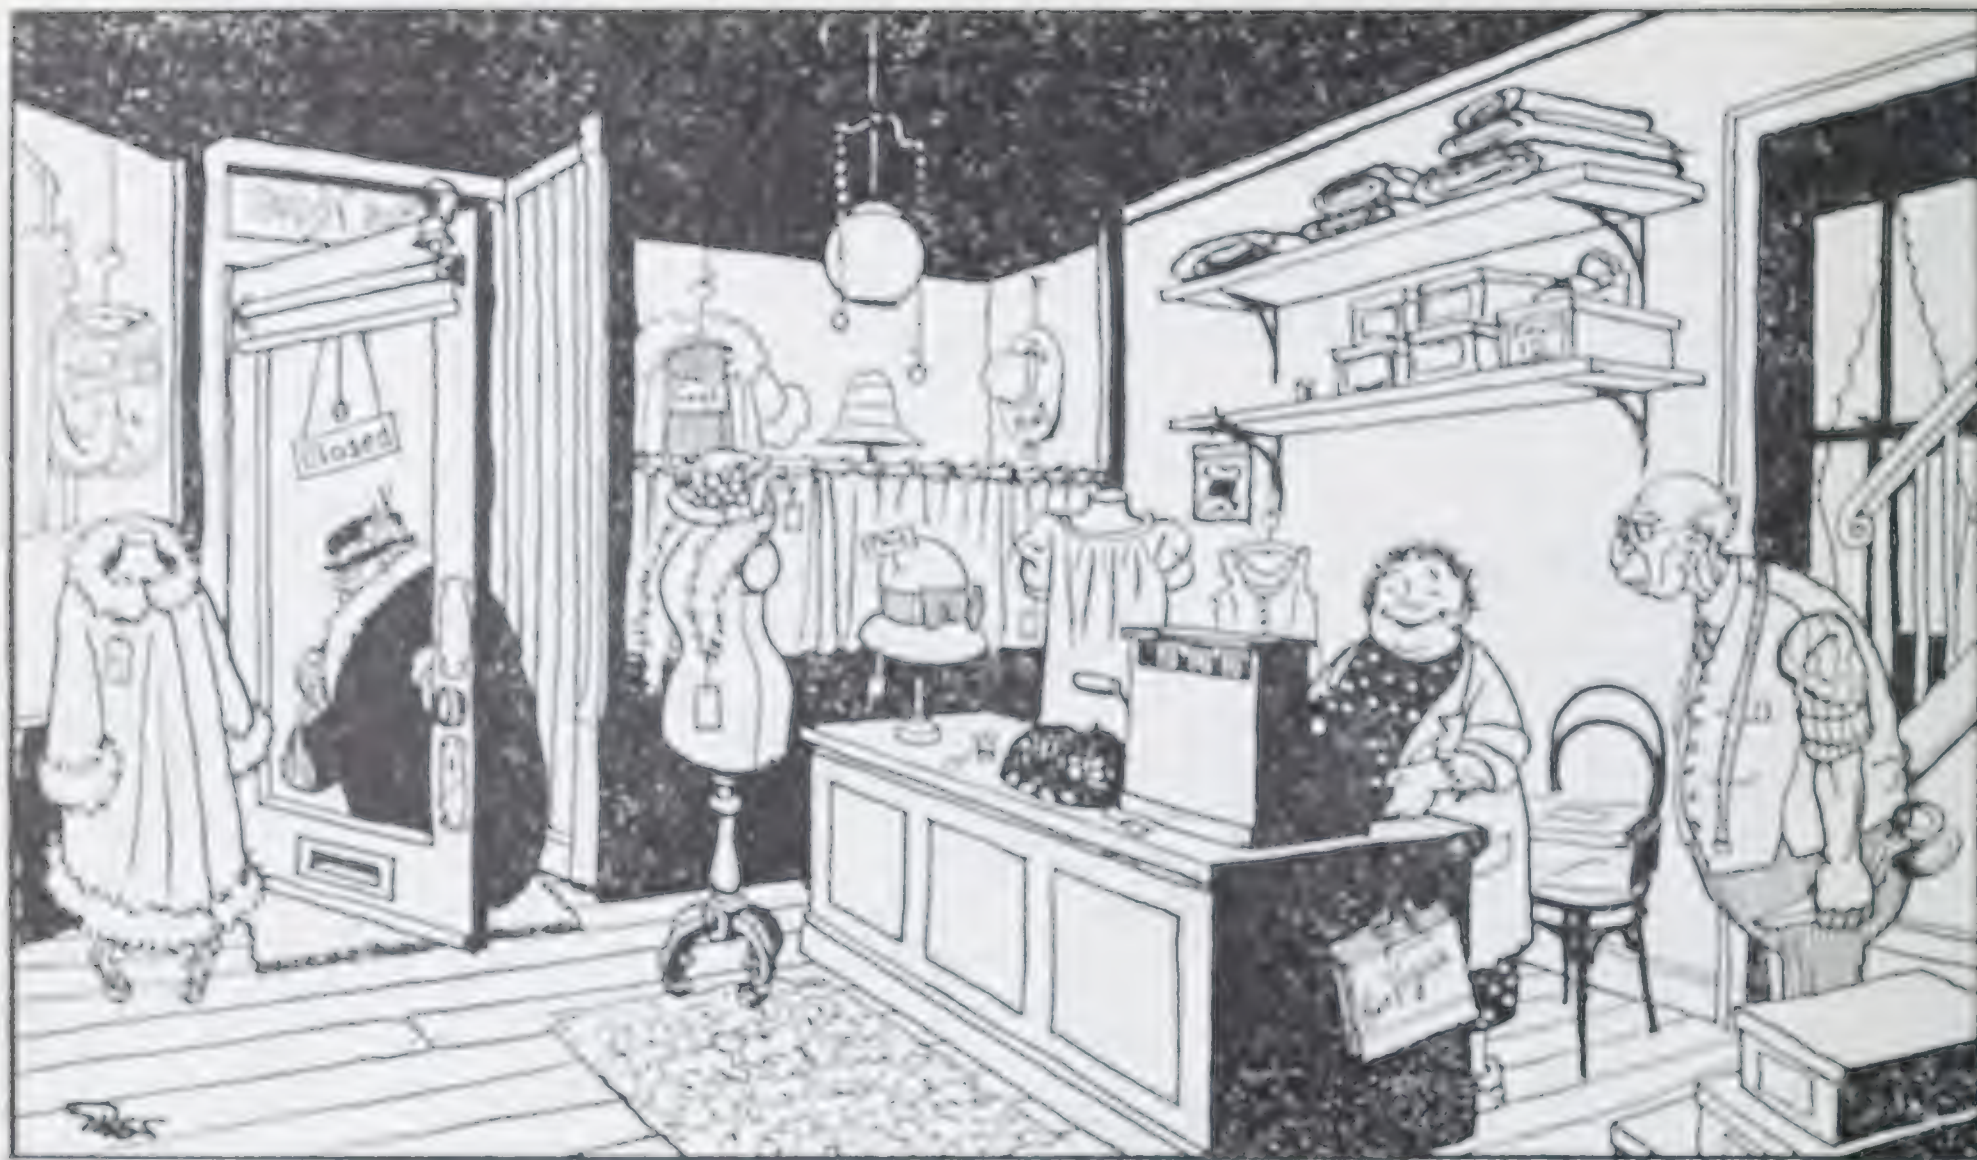

"Lady says Boggis's Best Aisle Oil always does her knee good and her mother's, and her mother's before her"

"I fear anything in my sermon will be beyond their understanding unless it refers to Red Rum."

"I doubt ye'll get cups of tea in the nick from the wee Argentinians if you go thumping the opponents after the match."

"She didn't go much on the merchandise, but I sold her all your £s for 90p."

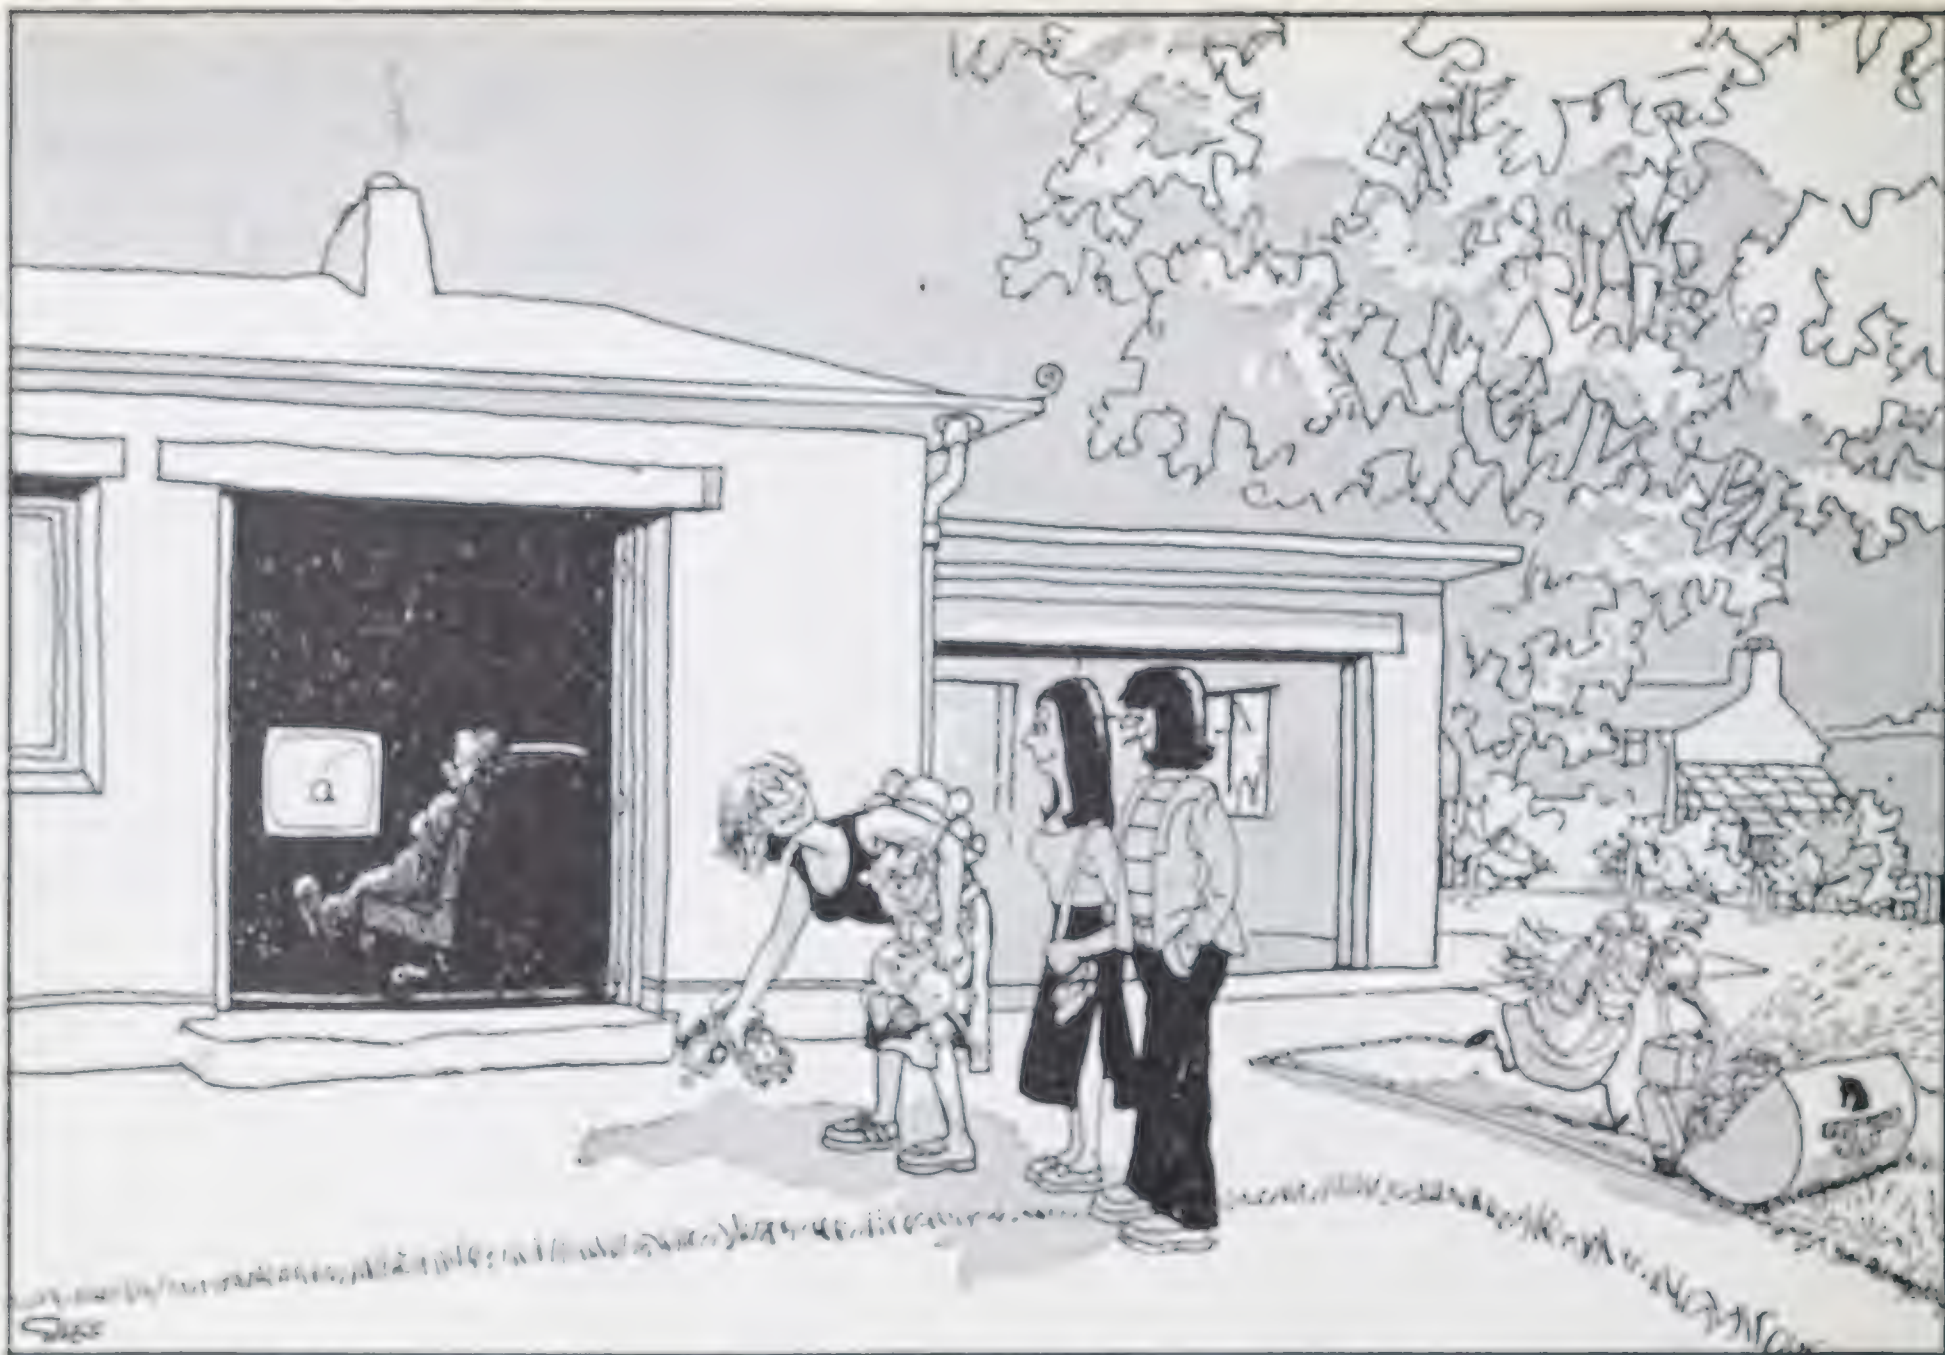

"Ah! There you are Harold: the new Minister for Marriage has popped in to see us."

"We found it at the back of a car park. The man on TV showed us how to pick the lock."

"So much for the 'Dress to thrill' or Armani sexy body-hugging clothes" - Baked beans and W chips three times."

"Football all day yesterday - non-stop cricket today - he'll tire himself out for his day of action on Wednesday."

"I've been in and out of here for 60-odd years and I'm hanged if I can remember the last time the cost as for prices had gone down."

"Check watches, Miss Medler. I'm just off for a Rosie Lee."

"Look here, Edwards, we can't spend forty five minutes with each member of the public and then discover they're a 'don't know'."

"He doesn't know I took a lovely picture of him with his Teddy Bear at Longleat."

"He's leaving home to live on the trains for a few days while they're still running."

"In view of the public's waning interest in boat races I asked cox how she felt about going topless"

"Couldn't you just wear it down to the club to please them?"

"I'm afraid that whale the gentleman's been giving the kiss-of-life to for the last half hour happens to be one of these 'ere rubber ones."

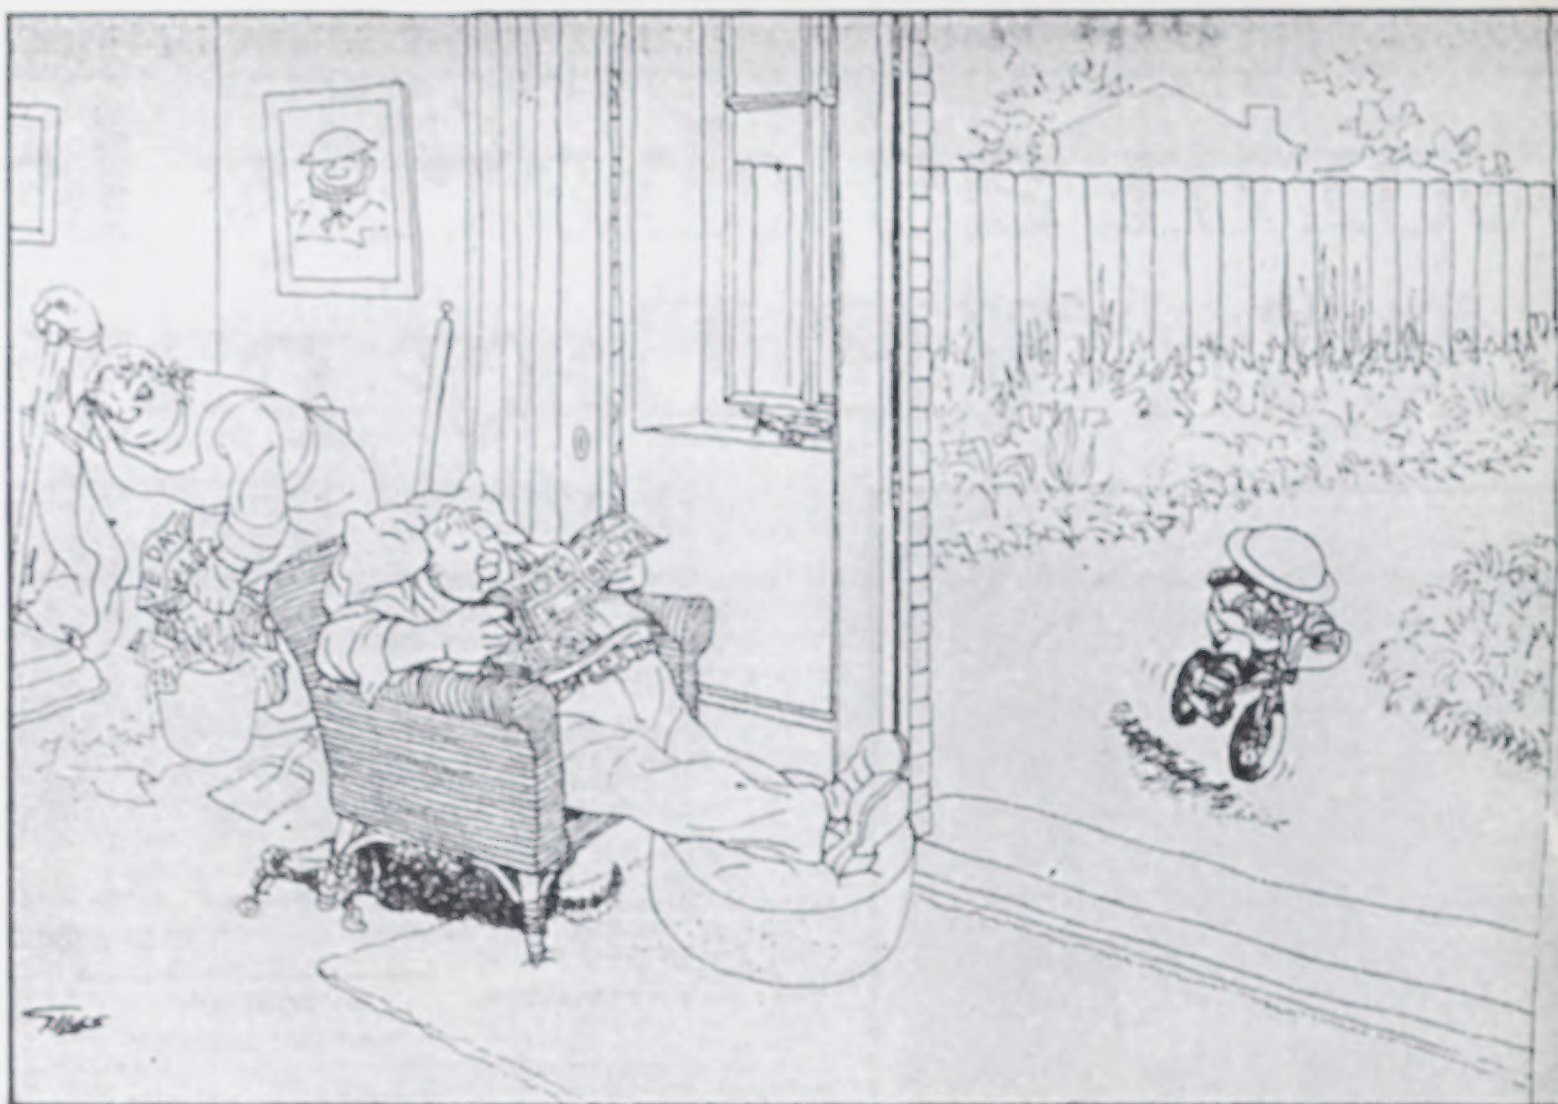

"The race Rodney is describing is out of that window. There's a topless bathing pool outside the other."

"Remember the row he kicked up this morning about not going to miss his Test Match!"

"There'll be a wind of war right here if you don't get him out of Grandma's chair."

"If he sings We'll Meet Again once more, he'll be needing that flaming tin helmet!"
